SENATE'S INVESTIGATIONS ATTACKED AS OBJECTLESS

Warning Sounded by Borah That People Are Demanding Action on Constructive Measures

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The Senate heard another day of testimony today, running the scale of all of the charges, and disclosures of its investigators, and then listened to a warning that the people back home soon may demand that Congress forego its "grand jury" pursuits and address itself to a program of constructive legislation.

Naval Choice is Confirmed

California Jurist, Apprised of Senate Action, Says He is Ready for Work

President Asks New Cabinet Member to Take Post Soon as Possible

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—Selection of Curtis D. Wilbur, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of California, to succeed Edwin Denby, as Secretary of the Navy was approved today by the Senate in an executive session of less than ten minutes. There was said to have been no debate on the nomination and no roll call asked when the motion that he be confirmed was made by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader.

President Coolidge upon being informed of the Senate action, immediately notified Judge Wilbur by telegram, and it is understood, expects the new member of the Cabinet to come to Washington as soon as he can conveniently arrange to do so.

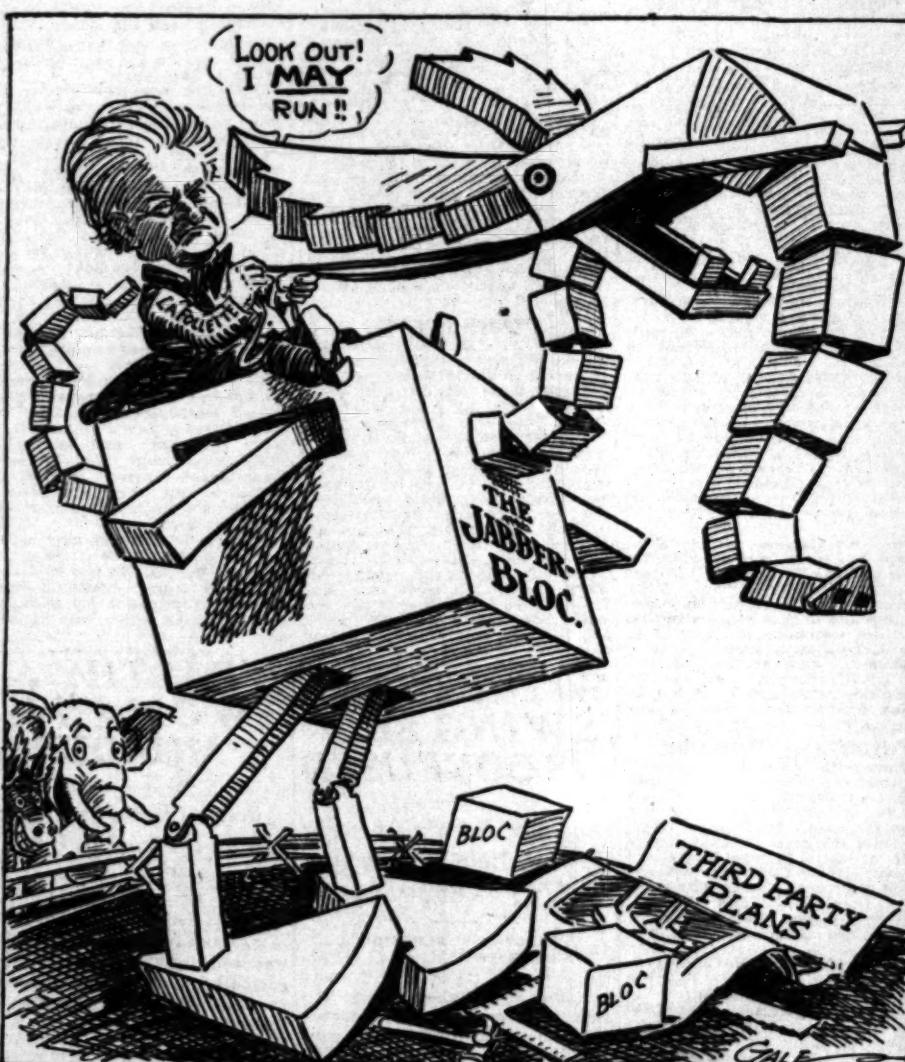

The new Secretary is to take up the duties of the office where they stood when Secretary Denby resigned. No outstanding policies await his attention and even the appropriation bills have been framed for the new fiscal year. In the interval of little more than a week since Mr. Denby left office, the department has been under the direction of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt.

Mr. Wilbur comes to his new office not unfamiliar with navy matters. He has been in the navy since 1900, and was in the navy during the war.

PARLIAMENT WORRIED BY HEIR'S ACTS

Recklessness of Prince is Mentioned in House of Commons

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, March 18.—The Prince of Wales's recklessness, which is arousing widespread public indignation, was mentioned today in the House of Commons, when Col. Moore-Brabazon, Tory member, asked the speaker if it was within the province of the House of Commons to represent the sovereign interests grave concern at the repeated risks run by the heir-apparent to the throne.

The speaker replied: "I have no tongue to speak in this place except as the House may be pleased to direct me. For the rest, it is with the responsible ministers of the crown."

The Prince of Wales is still at Alderhot, and rumors are circulating that his injuries are more serious than was announced, although optimistic bulletins are issued daily saying that he is only a little stiff and shaken.

BRITISH GIVE UP PLAN FOR NAVAL BASE

Singapore Fortifications Held Needless in View of Japan's Status

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, March 18.—It was officially announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the government had decided not to proceed with the construction of a naval base at Singapore.

This decision has been known unofficially for some time, and while opposed by some die-hard Tories, it is generally popular, as it is felt that the base would only be directed against Japan, which is not likely to be aggressive for many years. The chief demand for the base came from Australia, which did not suggest paying for it, however.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons, A. W. H. Peimsey, Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs, said that liquor treaty with America would be presented to the House for ratification as soon as the dominions' approval was received. Only Ireland and Canada are to be heard from.

BRITISH ENVOY SEES END OF AMERICAN ISOLATION

Says United States Must Work for Peace in Europe to Protect Country's Prosperity

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, March 18.—America will unquestionably feel the impulse to work for permanent peace in Europe on which a large measure of her prosperity depends, and will not "leave Europe to stew in her own juice," Sir Esme Howard, new Ambassador from Great Britain to the United States declared tonight at the Pilgrim Society annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. It is his first public address since he has assumed his post at Washington.

The customary Anglo-American nature of the function was given a broader international flavor by the presence of Ambassador Julian J. Gerard of France, and Ambassador Don Juan Riano y Gayangos of Spain, while the hundreds of listeners to their addresses, and those by John W. Davis, former Assistant Secretary of State, and now, under President Coolidge, she is doing her best through the instrumentality of her experts on the reparations commission to help straighten out that tangled skein.

"And, therefore, I do not believe that the American people will just leave Europe to stew in her own juice. On the contrary, I believe that combining her strong, practical common sense, with her undoubted idealism, she will advance step by step, not in a haphazard manner, but in a future, but just helping as necessary arises, until at last confidence and good will together will have laid the sure foundations of an abiding peace."

"Believing as I do in America, and in the American people, I have come over here from our stricken countries of Europe firm in this conviction. Were I to lose it after sojourning amongst you, I think I should turn my face to the wall and prefer to die. For it is, after all, the greatest task that any man or any nation can undertake."

CHANGES INAUGURAL DATE

Senate Passes Amendment to Constitution Setting Opening of President's Term in January

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, March 18.—A step toward adding another amendment to the Constitution was taken today when the Senate, 63 to 7 adopted a joint resolution to have Presidents inaugurated the third Monday in January and new Congresses go into office the first Monday in January after elections.

The resolution, which was offered by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, now goes to the House where, as in the Senate, a two-thirds vote is necessary for adoption. If approved by the House, it then will go to the States for ratification.

Having disclosed this amendment, the Senate took up without delay a resolution by Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, proposing that ratification of constitutional amendments must be completed by three-fourths of the States within six years of their approval by Congress. It was made the unfinished business over

FLIGHT LAP CURTAILED

World Aviators at Eugene

Lieut. Wade's Plane Forced to Land, Delayed for Nearly Two Hours

Globe Circlers Will Wing Way into Northland This Morning

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
EUGENE (Or.) March 18.—Three of the round-the-world Army airplanes landed at the Eugene Aviation Field this afternoon. No. 1, piloted by Maj. Frederick L. Martin, fleet commander, made the field at 2:57 o'clock, and No. 2, with Lieut. Lowell Smith in command, landed at 4 o'clock. The third plane, in command of Lieut. Leigh Wade, which made a forced landing at Cottonwood, Cal., early this afternoon, took the air again and landed at the Eugene Field at 6:23 o'clock this afternoon. No word had been received from Erik Nelson, who was detained at Santa Monica.

The schedule provides that the planes shall hop off for the North tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, stopping at Vancouver, B. C., for lunch at noon. Before the arrival of Lieut. Wade, Maj. Martin stated that if the third plane did not arrive tonight, other plans might be considered before starting again.

With the coming of the third plane the original plan will not be changed.

Word that the planes would land at Eugene was received here this morning and immediately a plan of welcome to the world fliers was started. City officials and a band were at the aviation field when the two planes came in from the 550-mile flight from the south. A banquet for the Army fliers was held this evening at 8 o'clock.

REPORTS GOOD WEATHER

Fine weather prevailed on the flight from Sacramento, although a rather stiff north wind was faced on the latter stages of the trip, the major said.

Gas and oil for the planes were rushed to the aviation field this morning on receipt of the wire that the planes were en route from Vancouver Barracks, Wash., at the last minute had been selected as the stopping place tonight.

Shortly before the arrival of the world flight here, a fleet of three Army planes from Vancouver Barracks landed at the Eugene field to greet the northbound planes.

The three Douglas planes used by the aviators will remain at the aviation field tonight. Mechanics are at work inspecting the ships and making them ready for the contemplated trip tomorrow. The three planes are parked in the open and a guard of four men has been provided by the city to keep watch on the ships during the night.

SHANGHAI PREPARES

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SHANGHAI, March 18.—American Consul-General Cunningham here has made tentative arrangements for land-planes and fuel and supplies for the use of the American Army aviators scheduled to stop here on their flight around the world.

He reports, however, that nothing definite can be done owing to the fact that an Army officer expected here to conclude the final arrangements in accordance with instructions from Washington has not arrived.

Shanghai affords several desirable landing-places for either sea or land planes. The Chinese have built a large airfield and landing-place, built some years ago, which has not been used and it is believed that this building would be available in addition several other

BONUS WINS IN HOUSE

Soldier Measure Up to Senate

House Votes Insurance for Service Men by Margin of 355 to 54

Scheme Would Cost Nation Over Two Billions in Next Twenty Years

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, March 18.—The House today for the third time in four years passed a soldier bonus bill. The vote was 355 to 54, and was taken after forty minutes' debate.

Twenty speakers took the floor during the brief period, however, advocates of a full cash payment option assailing the rule under which the bill was taken up, which limited debate and prevented the offering of amendments. Members of both parties declared against the measure on principle, while proponents argued it was a measure which could become law.

The measure provides for paid-up twenty-year endowment life insurance policies and cash payments to veterans entitled to not more than $50 in adjusted service credit. Provisions of the bill for vocational training and farm or home aid are eliminated.

PROVISION CHANGED
The insurance provision is somewhat different from the deferred payment certificates proposed in the old bill and because of these changes the measure faces an involved situation in the Senate. Members of that body have asked time to study the new bill.

Chairman Green of the Ways and Means Committee, who introduced the bill, reminded the House that the two previous measures had not been enacted into law "for reason known to all" and insisted this measure "will and must become law."

When asked by Representative Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, whether he had conferred with President Coolidge as to the prospects for the bill becoming law, Mr. Green replied that he had not and added he did not know the President's attitude toward the measure.

The old bill, after passing the House and Senate, was vetoed by President Harding.

The vote today showed eighty-two more than the two-thirds necessary to pass a bill over a veto.

GOLDEN RULE IS MOTTO OF TOUR

Los Angeles Delegation at San Diego

Border City Greets Party from Chamber

Fine Welcome Throughout Whole Trip

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, March 18.—The hospitality of San Diego was extended tonight to 150 members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who arrived here late this afternoon on the special train which is taking the delegation through the Southwest on the Golden Rule sociability tour arranged by the visiting chamber.

Addresses were made by President Lacy and Secretary Wiggin of the Los Angeles chamber; Mr. Mayne, Rev. Roy Campbell and Austin Adams, the last two expressing the pleasure of this city in greeting the guests from the north.

WILL SEE SIGHTS

Tomorrow morning the visiting party will be escorted on an automobile trip through Balboa Park, to Point Loma and to the aviation stations at North Island.

The Golden Rule special is scheduled to leave tomorrow over the San Diego and Arizona Railway at 12:15 p.m., the first stop being at Tijuana for an hour and a half trip through the Mexican town. The daylight trip to El Centro, where the train is due at 6:45 p.m., will afford the visitors a splendid opportunity to see the spectacular beauty of Carrizo George through which the San Diego and Arizona Railway winds for more than ten miles.

The Los Angeles delegation left San Diego on a special train over the Santa Fe at 8:30 o'clock this morning on the first leg of a week's tour which will carry the travelers through thirty-five communities in California, Arizona and northern Mexico. The special train did not reach San Diego until after 6 o'clock owing to the fact that the party was feted between here and El Centro.

REACH FULLERTON

Fullerton was the first stop out of Los Angeles this morning and there the visitors heard the importance of the back country richness and its part in the growth of Los Angeles emphasized.

The fact that the prosperity of the back country influences the development and growth of Los Angeles was brought out by Charles C. Chapman, who welcomed the visitors.

"Orange county, the smallest in the great State of California, is the richest agricultural county in the United States, the value of the land averaging $154 an acre," said Mr. Chapman. "You are visiting this great back country and we take this opportunity of calling to your attention the fact that Orange county valuations are $48,000,000."

President Lacy in responding declared that the development of the Boulder Dam project would bind the southern section of the State together as no other single enterprise would.

More than a score of Fullerton business men, together with the Union High School Band, met the travelers at the station and they were taken in automobiles to various parts of the city.

AT ANAHEIM

Three hundred boosters of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce met the Los Angeles delegates. Songs by the Anaheim High School Glee Club greeted the Los Angeles business men and they were then welcomed to the city by Mayor Stark.

President Lacy declared the Golden Rule Boosters felt a keen interest in Anaheim because of its recent industrial development program.

The Los Angeles delegation was conducted through the city on a forty-minute tour, covering an inspection of the forty-acre industrial site recently purchased by Anaheim.

ORANGE NEXT STOP

Orange was the next stop and there the delegation was accorded a royal welcome by the Orange Chamber of Commerce. The visiting Angelenos were bunched into forty automobiles and whisked to the California Wire Company, the only insulated wire factory west of Chicago. A trip through other factories in Orange's million-dollar industrial district followed.

VISIT SANTA ANA

At noon, the members of the sociability tour were conveyed to Santa Ana where they were entertained at a banquet tendered by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Preceding their arrival there the Angelenos were given an Orange souvenir by a boy of pretty Orange high-school coeds who boarded the train at Anaheim.

A stop was also made at Del Mar, where the Angelenos were greeted by a committee of business men and women.

HEAD OF NAVY IS APPROVED WIFE KILLER KISSES VICTIM

Janssen Admits Faking Story of Hiring Man to Slay Mate; Tells of Murder by Self

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

DENVER, March 18.—Fred Janssen, confessed slayer of his wife, whose body was found by a railroad expressman in a trunk at Ogden, Utah, last Saturday, stooped and kissed the face of his dead wife this afternoon when he was taken to the county morgue in custody of two detectives.

After identifying the body as that of his wife he explained in detail to the detectives how he had beaten her to death with a hammer and he pointed out the bruises on her body. He pulled back as he was being led away from the body and again placed a kiss on the brow of the woman he confessed he killed.

CONFESSES CRIME

Janssen today admitted that his original story of the employment of a Mexican to kill his wife for $150 was untrue and then confessed his part in the crime. He told of slaying his wife with a hammer last Thursday night at his home here, and then of secreting her body in the trunk, where it was discovered at Ogden. The body of Mrs. Janssen was returned to Denver shortly after noon today, together with the trunk in which it had been checked to Weed, Cal.

JAILED PENDING TRIAL

Janssen's visit to the morgue this afternoon was made as a part of the trip with detectives in which Janssen led them to the various hotels and rooming-houses of the city where he spent his time from Friday morning when he checked the trunk containing the body of his wife, to the time he left the city Sunday morning.

Following his visit to the morgue, he was taken to the County Jail where he will be held pending his trial.

Ambulance and Riot Call Due to Piece of Candy

DENVER, March 18.—A piece of candy was responsible for vast activity at police headquarters and resulted in the riot car, an ambulance and police being called out.

Someone at a drug store telephoned to police headquarters that a boy had been run over and was in the drug store in a serious condition. When police and the ambulance arrived it was found that the boy, Robert Wilson, 2 years of age, was eating candy, a large piece of which was stuck in his throat, choking him. He was taken to the General Hospital, where the candy was extracted.

TAKE POSTS IN CHAMBER OF JUNIORS

Officers of Younger Body in Santa Ana Greeted by Organization

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SANTA ANA, March 18.—Cheered to the echo by 200 members of the newly organized Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, the permanent officers of the organization today took up their duties following their election at a rousing meeting last evening at which the main address was delivered by Louis Ariand, vice-president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The following were elected: president, L. R. Crawford; vice-presidents, William Iversen, Norman Henderson, Stanley Clem, J. C. Wallace; treasurer, J. A. Hart; directors, G. W. Rogers, B. E. Switzer, Carl Mock, Jesse Elliott, John Cannon. The directors will choose the secretary.

In his talk Ariand stressed the importance of tying up with the senior chamber. He said the junior chamber bridged the gap between the Boy Scouts and the senior Chamber of Commerce and that plans were on foot to establish junior chambers in Long Beach, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and San Francisco.

W. H. Miller, industrial secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, recently employed to assist J. A. Metzgar, secretary, spoke briefly upon the importance of trained leadership.

Vatican Denies Health of Pope Causing Worry

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ROME, March 18.—The reception of Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago and Archbishop Hayes of New York, by Pope Pius IX was today postponed until Wednesday.

The postponement renewed the rumors that the Holy Father's health would not permit his being abroad. This, however, was denied in Vatican circles, and a statement was issued, saying that the Pope was never enjoying better health.

Tonight the American prelates called on Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state and expressed their pleasure at being in Rome and the high honor to be conferred upon them.

BEAR CUBS TO BE GRIZZLIES

Big Celebration Scheduled for Afternoon

Baseball Team to Take on Krug's Angel Nine

Duke Kahanamoku Will Help Dedicate New Pool

The Cubs have grown up, or at least that is the general impression now prevailing at the local University of California.

For the past four years the athletes at the local institution have been called Cubs, the fact that they were a branch of the big university at Berkeley rating them a bit under the famous Golden Bears. Now, however, that the branch is to have a four-year course the students feel that the time has come for bigger things.

Hence—Grizzlies.

Friday afternoon the bear Cub will trot out onto the field at Vermont avenue and be given a pair of long pants and from that time on he will be designated as a Grizzly.

It is to be a big day at the local institution. Duke Kahanamoku, world's champion short-distance swimmer is to personally appear and aid in the dedication of a new $50,000 swimming pool. The Duke, who propels a mean fin, will undoubtedly properly christen the new tank with considerable splashing.

There is a possibility that Mayor Cryer will attend and add a bit of dignity to the occasion.

Coach Fred Couzens will introduce his Grizzlies to the Los Angeles Coast League ball club and the two teams will hook up in a nine-inning game, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Manager Marty Krug has been keeping an eye on Al Montgomery, flashy California southpaw, who is expected to make a big play in the shot put and discus.

All in all it looks like a large week-end for the Cubs who will be Grizzlies when it's all over.

HUNTINGTON PARK BOASTS GOOD TEAM

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
HUNTINGTON PARK, March 18.—Considerable interest is being taken in the track squad of the Huntington Park Union High School. This school has been showing up exceptionally well in the sprint line, while Graham, Bagley and Wade are coming along nicely in the longer string. Stars in the distance runs are Skelton, Kanka and Wilton, with Gorman, Booth and Boone pushing them hard for positions.

Smith and Hoff are expected to make a big play in the shot put and discus.

TYSON, Holder, Goodwin and Lusk are covering some distance in high jumps, while the broad jump team are being easily taken care of by Graham, Adams, Martin and Bagley.

PANCHO VILLA WILL BATTLE GEORGE LEE

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SACRAMENTO, March 18.—Pancho Villa, Filipino lightweight champion of the world, will make his Pacific Coast debut here Friday night in a four-round bout with George Lee, local Chinese fighter. Villa and Lee fought fifteen rounds in Manila two years ago, the Filipino winning the decision.

On the same bill will be Pete Sarmiento, heralded as featherweight champion of the Philippines, who will go four rounds with Tony O'Leary of Sacramento.

LADIES WILL ENJOY CLUB SHOW TONIGHT

With a variety of stunts that are guaranteed to please, ladies' night at the L.A.A.C. this evening is sure to be a success. The program comes under the head of an athletic show and dance. Johnny Barry vs. Clayton Frye and Eddie Gleason vs. Tommy Coyne, will furnish the amusement in the boxing events. Following the boxing, wrestling, Arab tumbling, feats on the parallel bars, fencing and posing by the strongest amateurs in the country will be the main program. This collection of champions would be hard to see any other place. This exciting good program begins at 8:30.

MARTHA BAYARD LOSES

"Seeded" Played Defeated by Catherine Gardner in National Indoor Tennis Tourney

BROOKLINE (Mass.) March 18.—One upset occurred in the second round of the national women's indoor tennis tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club covered courts today. Miss Martha Bayard of New York, one of the four "seeded" players, was defeated by Miss Catherine Gardner of Boston, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

The other three leaders came through safely, although Miss Lillian Scheraga of Brooklyn, N. Y., had difficulty in defeating Mrs. William Endicott of Boston, 6-3, 7-5. Mrs. Marion Zinderstein of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Leslie Bancroft of Brookline, advanced easily.

Summary second round:
Miss Lillian Scheraga, N. Y., 6-3, 7-5, defeated Mrs. William Endicott, Boston, 6-3, 7-5.

Miss Marion Zinderstein, Wilmington, Del., 6-3, 7-5, defeated Miss Leslie Bancroft, Brookline, 6-3, 7-5.

Miss Catherine Gardner, Boston, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, defeated Miss Martha Bayard, New York, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

THE MAKING OF A GOLF CHAMPION

Chapter X—THROUGH A STONE WALL TO VICTORY

BY WALTER HAGEN
Former American, British and Canadian, twice American titleholder, and present holder of the North and South open and the Florida open and Texas open.

The first open championship following the war was held at the Brae Burn Golf Club at Boston and naturally aroused considerable interest. All the star professionals were eager to try their hands again at medal play, and there were a number of amateurs who appeared worthy of consideration.

Francis Ouimet, I remember, was quite a favorite, as the tournament was played only a short distance from the Brookline links, the scene of his great triumph over Vardon and Ray, the English pros, in 1913. Ouimet was well-liked in Boston and large galleries turned out to see him play. They were hoping he would repeat his victory of 1913 and many backed his chances.

During the winter and spring of this eventful year I had played some very good golf and felt that I had a right to be confident of my own game. In Florida I had played at most of the important courses and won, I think, more than a dozen tournaments. It made me believe that I had an excellent chance to win at Brae Burn and, as I had been waiting five years in all-including the two seasons of the war, 1917-18—for a chance to annex another open title I felt my time was due.

Before relating the story of this championship I want to impress on my readers that confidence in golf is half the battle and, unless one can feel that he has a good chance of winning an important golf event, he is greatly handicapped from the start. Amateurs sometimes go into a tournament with the conviction that this player or that one is likely to beat them. When a fellow gets such a thought implanted in his cranium he is really looking for a soft place to fall. The golfer who enters a match with the determination to stick to the bitter end, win or lose, will often reap a surprising reward.

IT'S WORTH WHILE SAYING SO

Anyone who heard me remark, down at Brae Burn, that winter, that I was going to win the open might have thought I was indulging in a little personal conceit, and maybe I did overdo it a bit, but I wanted to try the experiment of believing in success for the simple purpose of succeeding. I have seen many a dub turn his meekness into a good imitation of genius simply through a persistent and exaggerated notion of his own ability. At any rate I found all my confidence was needed.

The Brae Burn course is one of the most difficult in this country and only careful play with a golfer to score. When I had finished the third round, with one more lap to go, my chances for victory looked anything but bright. Mike Brady, a popular pro from the Boston district, had played great golf in three rounds and was leading me by five shots, which was a pretty stiff handicap.

Mike had been knocking at the door for a long time and it looked as if he was about to come in. It happened that Brady played very early and had started his fourth round before I came in with my third. I knew at lunch-time that he had finished his round, but somehow it did not make me lose heart. I kept thinking to myself that Mike might have one last round before he was through and it was likely to come this next time. While I was standing at the first tee, ready to start, scouts came running back to the clubhouse with the news that Brady had completed his first nine in forty-four minutes and was on his way to the opening for me if I could take advantage of it.

When I arrived at the ninth green Mike had finished his round. I knew then just what score I had to make to beat him. I had picked up three strokes on the first nine and must give him three more to win, and two more to tie. The gallery had discovered that I had a chance to catch Mike and had gathered to see the finish.

I figured that I had just even par to beat my rival, so no stroke could be wasted, unless I got a birdie to make up.

At the tenth hole I saw Mike in the gallery. He had dressed and come out to see me play. Mike smiled when I passed and I smiled back.

"Well, Walter," he said, "they have all fallen down but you."

"You won't see me fall down," I replied. "Just hang around the eighteenth green and watch me finish."

My march down the course was going smoothly until I came to the twelfth hole and here I put one out of bounds. I got on the green on the next shot, however, and sank the putt for a four.

Arriving at the last tee I faced the problem of a tie or a victory. If I got home with my second shot it meant that I had a chance to run down the putt for a three. This would put me one stroke to the good. I hit a good tee shot and knew then that a tie looked pretty safe, but the birdie three was in doubt, unless I could slam the ball up to the pin.

The home green at Brae Burn is backed by a stone wall and on each side of the green is a gradual slope which makes an ideal amphitheater. The gallery with the gallery who had left just a small opening to the green. I remember, when I settled down to hit the ball, that I was going to give the ball all I had, aiming straight for the stone wall. I was rewarded by seeing the shot turn out just as I had hoped it would, with a putt left for my birdie three. The ball was scarcely ten feet from the cup.

A MATCH CASE VS. A PEBBLE

Remembering what I had told Mike back on the tenth fairway, I turned around to look for him in the gallery, but he was lost in the crowd. I made my putt, giving the ball plenty of chance, but it hit the back of the cup and bounded a few inches away. It was now a tie and the gallery was no longer highly pleased of us. It meant another day of play.

In the playoff I beat Mike by one stroke, but there was a time when I looked as if I were going to walk away with it. This was at the ninth hole, when I led by four shots. Mike began to get some long putts down and my lead slipped a few strokes of my lead.

A peculiar thing happened at the twelfth hole. I saw a match box—one of those little paper folders—in the fairway about seven feet from my ball and unwittingly picked it up. The rules say no penalty was given either of us. At the seventeenth hole my tee shot was buried and it took some time to find it. One of the spectators had stepped on the ball and this cost me a stroke, as it was hard to gauge the strength needed in playing it out. Losing a stroke here left me with only a margin of one, which I held on to, and eventually won the title on the next hole.

Thus, once again, I found myself the American champion—a position which, with all its personal glory and satisfaction, holds no onerous responsibility. A fellow begins to feel that his game represents something more than his own skill or ability. Thereafter he is defending not only himself but the country he represents, which is a sobering experience.

On the strength of my newly won laurels I decided it was about time to realize a long-cherished ambition to go abroad and announce the coming of the British open the following spring gave me my opportunity.

COMPTON DEFEATS SPARTANS

Huntington Park Cinder Steppers Drop Meet by 70-to-43 Score

Compton High's track squad defeated the Huntington Park cindersteppers, 70 to 43, in a dual track and field meet staged yesterday on the winning team's oval. The tied and White athletes cleaned up first in eight of the thirteen events, including the relay.

Captain Barr of Compton, who holds the Bay League record in the 100-yard dash, was the star of the meet, cleaned up in both races against the Spartans. Yesterday was the first time Barr has shown his old form, as he has been troubled with a trick knee that had prevented him from winning a race up until the Huntington Park meet.

Smith of Huntington Park beat the cindersteppers in the 100-yard dash, 15 to 14, by a hair's breadth. The Spartans were the high point man with two firsts and a second. Elliott of Compton upset the dope in the low hurdles, when he beat Graham of Huntington Park to the tape in 22 to 24. Graham has been running the hurdles in the Bay League. The Bay League meet will be held April 12 on the Venice track. Summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Barr (C.) 15 to 14. Second, Smith (H.P.) 15 to 14. Third, Time 22.5.

CUBS ARE NET CHAMPS

Annex Title by Defeating Occidental Tennis Artists in Five out of Six Matches

The local university of California team annexed the conference tennis championship yesterday when the Occidental team was defeated, 5 to 1, on the Cub court. The match was hard fought from beginning to end and the Branch rackets only won out after a series of exciting and closely contested sets. Although the Cubs were given a big edge on their opponents the meet was far from being a walk away.

Planch and Houser of the branch started the ball rolling when they won first doubles from Palmer and Finnell. The Oxy men played well and when they grabbed off the second set with a 6-3 score, which off-set the 6-4 victory of the Cubs in the first set, things looked exceptionally bright for the Bengals. Houser starred for the Cubs, and won the match with his terrific driving.

Occidental came back in the second doubles when Boice and Creighton played an exceptional fast match of three sets, winning from John and Vargas of S.H.U.C. Boice was the outstanding star of this fray and his drives and serving were exceptionally good. Results follow:

First doubles—Planch and Houser (B.) defeated Palmer and Finnell (O.) 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Second doubles—Boice and Creighton (B.) defeated John and Vargas (O.) 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

First single—Houser (B.) defeated Palmer (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Second single—Planch (B.) defeated Finnell (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Third single—Vargas (B.) defeated Boice (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Fourth single—John (B.) defeated Houser (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Fifth single—Boice (B.) defeated Creighton (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Sixth single—Houser (B.) defeated Finnell (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Seventh single—Planch (B.) defeated Palmer (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Eighth single—Boice (B.) defeated John (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Ninth single—Creighton (B.) defeated Vargas (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

Tenth single—Finnell (B.) defeated Houser (O.) 6-4, 6-3.

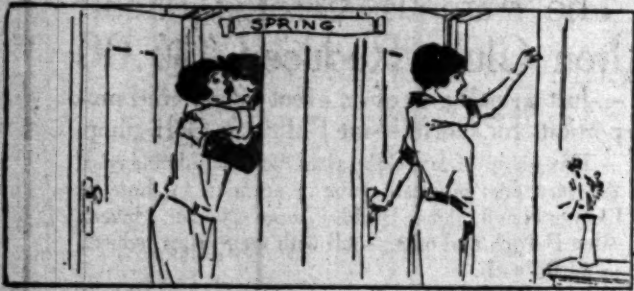

Eleventh single—Palmer (B

MEXICAN BANK BUSINESS GOOD

American Money Displaying Faith in Obregon

Attitude Brings Out Hoards Held by Natives

Election Declaration Adds to National Content

BY JOHN PAGE

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) (Copyright, 1921, John Page.)

MEXICO CITY, March 18.—Conditions in Mexico have improved remarkably during the last two weeks. The improvement has been both military and economic.

The military gains have been so great that all reports north of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec and Puerto Mex. have fallen into the hands of the Federalists. Both on the Pacific and on the Gulf of Mexico, rebel resistance to the pacification of the country has collapsed and many of their leaders have left the country.

The economic improvement has been no less marked, and its signs are just as obvious to those who seek them. Bank clearings and deposits, the surest symptoms of economic health or distemper, have increased more than 30 per cent during the last fortnight.

The president of one of the leading financial institutions of Mexico stated today that since February 25 the deposits in his bank have increased 40 per cent. Speaking of conditions in Mexican banks, generally, he declared that all clearinghouse balances have shown remarkable increases, ranging from 30 to 50 per cent.

There is 50 per cent more gold and 5 per cent more silver in sight now than there was ten days ago," he said.

Fernando de la Fuente, Chief of the Department of Public Credit, supported the statements made by the banker, and expressed the belief that the improvement would continue until conditions had become normal. He doubts, however, that any one ten-day period can show the same rate of improvement shown by the one just ended.

CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT

The improvements alluded to result from four major causes:

The complete collapse of the rebel movement, the adoption by the bankers' convention of a new banking law project, which has the support of all banking interests and of the government; the agreement between the Wolvin Line and the government whereby the former contracts to stimulate the development of agricultural and other resources of the country, and the latter secured a substantial loan and the government's declaration that the national election will be held in July on scheduled time.

A factor which has contributed much to the feeling of restored confidence in the Obregon administration is the fact that the Wolvin Line and its powerful American associates have conducted virtually all their negotiations looking toward a huge loan to Mexico and the investment of many millions of dollars in Mexican territory, while the rebels were on the full retreat.

The fact that American money was showing confidence in the Mexican government had a heartening effect on Mexican money, which is emerging from hiding places in gardens, cellars, mattresses, stockings and chili pots to take part in the work of reconstruction.

Franklin Helm, representative of the American financial interests negotiating with the Mexican government, today consented to be quoted for the first time since his arrival in Mexico.

"The United States government and American business men," he said, "have confidence in President Obregon's administration because it is worthy of confidence."

"Under the guidance of Obregon, Mexico has emerged from a state of bankruptcy to one of good government, which complies faithfully with its international obligations. The disruption of order due to the De Huerta insurrection is but temporary. It was caused by the revolutionary germs implanted in the country by many years of civil strife, and is yielding to the vigorous treatment of Obregon."

"The present rebellion is the first of any consequence that has failed since the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz. That 80 per cent of the Mexican people opposed it proves they are tired of revolutions."

CABINET PRAISED

Asked what he thought of President Obregon's Cabinet, Mr. Helm said:

"We have found all of the Cabinet members with whom we have had dealings to be friendly, not only to our particular enterprise, but to the United States and Americans generally. They have tried to see things from our viewpoint as well as from their own."

"Secretary of Interior Cologua unquestionably is one of the ablest men in Mexico. As head of the cabinet and of the Department of Interior his work has been constructive, his utterances statesmanlike."

"Foreign Relations Minister Saenz has been largely responsible for the improvement in relations between the United States and Mexico. His recent promotion from subsecretary to Minister was deserved."

"Our dealings have been principally with Secretary of Treasury Pani. We have found him reasonable and broadminded in every way. He has not attempted to impose any unreasonable conditions upon us. All bankers with whom I have talked praise Pani highly for his co-operation with them in the framing of the new banking-law project."

TOKIO IS SCOURGED BY TYPHUS EPIDEMIC

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

TOKIO, March 18.—Tokio has been swept by a typhus epidemic during the past seventy days, there being 1739 cases reported with 392 deaths.

The authorities after an investigation learned that refugees living in barracks were the chief sufferers. Doctors blame the epidemic on dry winter and the frequent whirlwind dust storms combined with a shortage of sprinklers. A thorough disinfection is planned.

APPEL GETS RELEASE ON DEMURRERS

Indictment on Charge of Embezzling as Dry Law Agent Faulty

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PHOENIX, March 18.—In the United States Court today, Judge Jacobs sustained demurrers offered by J. P. Lavin and Thomas Flynn, attorneys for William Appel, who thereupon was released from two charges of embezzlement while serving as a Federal prohibition agent. The indictments were found defective, in that they describe Appel as a prohibition agent, a position that has no existence, and as an officer, when, in fact, he was only an employee.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Wilson denies there is any ground for local assumption that the court virtually has decided that a prohibition officer has no right of arrest. He says: "While the court has defined the active agents as mere employees of the United States, we have ample support from decisions that they have been given definite statutory powers of arrest and of search under warrant."

Appel, a former resident of Los Angeles, is held under a State charge that alleges larceny.

Shorn Tresses Put Hairpins in Junk Heap

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, March 18.—Bobbed hair has relegated the hair pin to the discard. This is the opinion of Deputy Sheriff Otto Gnewuch, who, as head of a raiding party of fourteen, found about thirty tons of wire hairpins among other refuse on the dump at Thirty-first street and Ashland avenue.

The raid was directed against the squatters occupying shacks on the dump at this place, a court order for whose forced eviction was given at the request of Richard Fitzgerald, and Jessie S. Landon, who claim the property through inheritance.

"I'll bet there were millions of those hairpins," said Gnewuch. They covered a space fifty feet square to a depth of four feet."

SCHOOL GIRLS IN DISORDERLY NET
Dozen Pupils Involved in Portland Scandal
Hunt Gang Members Back of Gay Night Parties
Nude Dancing and Drinking at Woman's Home

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PORTLAND (Or.) March 18.—Disorderly conduct by a "gang" which threw its tentacles around probably a dozen girls under 18 years of age, was uncovered here by arrests of four men.

A woman was asserted to have been instrumental in initiating the girls into the web. Two of the girls were in high school, one had just dropped from high school and a fourth was a business college student.

Disorderly acts by a woman known as "Babe," nude dancing by another known as "Peaches," the drinking of a mixture of vodka and moonshine whiskey and the smoking of marijuana were some of the acts to which the girls were introduced at the parties.

FOUR REPORTED GONE
Of the nine men and one woman for whom the authorities issued warrants at least four were said to have fled the city in haste. These included Glendora Ryan, at whose home the parties were said to have been staged. Recently the woman lived in Piedmont. Before she lived at 411 East Broadway, where the wild parties were said to have had their beginning.

Well-known citizens witnessed some of the disgraceful stunts at certain of the parties, according to Mrs. Emma Russell, trustee of the Louise Home, to whom goes much of the credit for unearthing activities of the ring.

A 15-year-old girl, once an inmate of the Home for Wayward Girls, who was found living with a man in a downtown apartment, gave Mrs. Russell the tip which resulted in the rounding up of six young associates. These appeared before Dep. Dist. Atty. John Mowry and Leon Behrman and at least four of them made sworn statements implicating men of the gang.

QUARTET UNDER ARREST
The men arrested, who were charged with statutory crimes, were Walter Smith, 17; George Schmidt, 24, and C. V. Haddad, 21. These were apprehended by deputies of Sheriff Hurlburt's force. Mitchell (Mac) Bell, 31, was arrested by Constable Gloss to answer to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Other young men for whom warrants were out and who were said to have fled the city were Harvey Williams, Eddie Michigan and Barney Krschevsky. These youths were said to be the ones who participated in the parties at the home of the Ryan woman. The trio arrested on the more serious charge were not known to have assisted the parties, according to the investigators. Schmidt was said to be the man who was living with the 13-year-old daughter of an attorney of a neighboring city. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the Ryan woman, charged with contributing to the delinquency of the girls. She could not be found. Warrants on a contributing charge were also held for Bennie Becker and Robert Johnson. Williams also will face a contributing charge, being the only man accused on both accounts.

The disappearance of those wanted in connection with the case was said to be due to the fact that one of the girls in the case had been permitted to go home without surveillance and had revealed the fact that the warrants would be issued. This word, passed to a friend, was said to have been communicated to all men implicated. The men range in age from 24 to 30. The Ryan woman was said to be 34.

According to Mrs. Russell, the parties started at least three months ago, being staged in the rooms of the Ryan woman on East Broadway. At first it was customary for youths of the party to call for the girls and escort them to the affairs. Later, she said, the Ryan woman summoned them merely by calling on the telephone and announcing the affair.

One of the girls was a Jefferson High School student and another dropped from Jefferson, possibly because of the dissipation into which she was led, it was said. One of the girls attended Roosevelt High School and one has been taking a course in Behrke-Walker Business College.

One girl came from the country to Portland and went to Shattuck school for a time. Subsequently she was an usher in a picture theater.

Mrs. Russell said that there are other girls to be located and interviewed, no less than half a dozen of them. As names of the girls were being withheld from publicity she hoped to get in touch with all who participated.

JACK-KNIFE BRIDGE SEES DEATH RACE
Autoist "Steps on Gas" as He is Caught on Ascending Leaf; Saved

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO March 18.—Caught in his automobile on the rising Jack-knife bridge over the north branch of the Chicago River at Halsted street, Clifford Peterson, head of the Clifford Peterson Tool Company, 606 West Randolph street, today "stepped on the gas" and won a race with death.

Peterson driving south, had reached the bridge at which the gates had not been lowered, when it began to rise.

Unable to stop his machine, Peterson increased his speed to the limit as the road became an incline with the two sections of the bridge separating.

The car raced over the top, and Peterson felt a slight jar as the wheels found the incline of the other half.

Safe from the river, a new danger loomed, the solid wall of the bridge abutment bared as the end of the bridge fell.

Bridgetender F. S. Reborna locked the bridge and Peterson's machine skidded against the wall smashing the front wheels and the radiator, but Peterson scrambled to safety.

SHERMAN TOLL BRIDGE PLANS ARE APPROVED
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SACRAMENTO, March 18.—Plans of the American Toll Bridge Company to construct the Antioch Sherman Island bridge were approved by the State Reclamation Board at its meeting here today.

The approval was based upon a report by E. A. Bailey, flood control engineer, that the structure would not interfere with flood control work by the State. The War Department already has approved the plans.

Officer Hears Car Backfire, Shoots Citizen
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, March 18.—Alarmed by the resounding backfire from a passing automobile which he mistook for a pistol shot, Patrolman Michael O'Hara shot and seriously wounded one of a trio of men who were running along Sixty-eighth street to catch a street car. The patrolman thought they were fleeing after a hold-up.

The wounded man, John Barlow, and his companions, corroborated O'Hara's tale of the backfire. The patrolman explained that he first called to them to halt and then observed Barlow stick his hand into his pocket. The man was reaching for his carfare.

BANK FACES SUIT ON DEFAMATION CHARGE
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Marcellus Kriegbaum, San Francisco real estate dealer, today filed suit against the San Francisco Savings and Loan Society for $3,000, 000 for alleged defamatory statements and malicious prosecution.

Kriegbaum was employed by the bank during the war when it was known as the German Savings and Loan Society. The name of the institution was changed over his protest and later, he alleges anonymous letters appeared reflecting on the bank's solvency.

According to Kriegbaum, the bank, through a private detective agency, has endeavored to prove he was the author of the letters.

OIL TANKER STILL IS REPORTED IN DISTRESS
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
EUREKA (Cal.) March 18.—The Associated Oil tanker Frank E. Buck, which lost her rudder two days ago in a storm off Eureka, still is in distress off Redding Rock, according to a message received here. The coast guard Calhoun is coming here to put a line aboard. The Calhoun reported yesterday that the tanker would not need assistance. Previous reports from the tanker said she had rigged up a jury rudder and expected to continue on her way. Today's message gave no details.

The Remarkable Evolution of the Pianoforte

FROM the Clavichord of Columbus' days to the Registering Piano of today the progress of the pianoforte is most interesting. In George Washington's time the Spinnet was the popular musical instrument.

The Abraham Lincoln period enjoyed the Square Piano.

When General Grant was President, the modern Upright and Grand were in vogue.

It was during William McKinley's administration that the Player Piano was ushered in. Mechanical, as it was, the "music hungry" masses who could not play the piano heartily welcomed it.

During the regime of Theodore Roosevelt, the electrically driven Reproducing Piano gave promise of a more prominent place in the musical world, because it was designed to follow the interpretation of artists. And today, this wonderful mechanism is installed in many of our highest priced and best known pianos.

But, the Gulbransen Registering Piano is conceded to be the most remarkable achievement in piano evolution. It was the musical instrument used to entertain at the camping party of our late President Harding with Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison at Pecktonville, Md.

The Gulbransen Co. was one of the pioneer builders of pianos to be played with a roll. While it established proof—several years ago—that personal touch on the keys could be registered by the performer, it was not until last June that the Gulbransen Registering Piano was formally introduced to the trade.

It can be said, without fear of contradiction, that no other musical instrument, of any age, has created such widespread enthusiasm among musical folk, as has the Gulbransen Registering Piano.

Besides registering touch, it plays the same piece in seven different keys—plays all makes of reproducing rolls, all makes of standard rolls, and plays the same roll either as a piano solo or as an accompaniment only.

COME TO OUR CONCERT SATURDAY AT THREE O'CLOCK

"If It Itches, It's Eczema!"
Doctors say that any chronic skin disease that itches is usually eczema. According to leading authorities, this disease constitutes about one-third of all skin troubles.

Eczema is nothing more nor less than a severe inflammation of the skin—either acute or chronic—brought about by irritation of some kind. It is not a blood disease—not contagious or catching. The best and safest way to remove the inflammation is to apply Ki-La-Ga to the affected parts night and morning. This natural mineral solution is absorbed through the pores, quickly relieving discomfort and helping to restore the skin to sound condition.

Ki-La-Ga is a harmless, odorless liquid taken from the ground in the foothills of California. Remarkably effective in all skin eruptions. One bottle is probably all you will require. Procure it today. Price $1 at all Owl and Sun Drug Stores and other leading druggists. The Ki-La-Ga Company, Sacramento, Cal. (Advertisement.)

SAYS MILITIA IS COAST BULWARK

National Guard Praised by
Col. Sirmyer

Initial Protection for All Pacific States

Many Radicals Cited in This Corps Area

(BY A. P. NIGHT WRITER)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—In case of war, the initial protection of the Pacific Coast, while the nation was being mobilized, would devolve on the National Guard, Col. E. A. Sirmyer, chief of National Guard affairs in the Ninth Army Corps area, said in an address today before the Commonwealth Club.

"There is no more vulnerable spot in the United States than the Pacific Coast," Col. Sirmyer added, "and the number of regular troops available for its defense is so limited as to be pitiable. The National Guard must be ready in an emergency."

MANY ANARCHISTS
He declared that it might be of interest to note that in this corps area there are 400 anarchists, 7450 communists and 15,700 members of the I. W. W.

"The matter of national defense is not a political issue," he contended. "It is wholly a question of whether or not this country shall be placed in a position to endure, with or without the consent of the rest of the world."

"The public must be educated to believe in the National Guard to the extent that it will insist on proper protection."

EMPLOYEES' UNITS
"Employers should encourage membership in the National Guard organizations of their employees by permitting attendance at the fifteen-day summer encampment and by payment of such employees of the difference between their salaries and the government pay. Large employers of labor should encourage the formation of complete National Guard units among their employees and thus insure that in time of trouble at least one unit will be particularly valuable to them in upholding law and order."

He urged adequate State appropriations for the maintenance of the guard.

RICH BANKER CUTS WIFE, SON IN WILL

Michaels Bernardini Had Lived in Same Home, but Wouldn't Speak to Mate

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ST. GEORGE'S (Staten Island, N. Y.), March 18.—The wife and son of Michael Bernardini, owner of the Bernardini Exchange Banks in New York, Boston, Chicago and San Francisco, and who died in Italy six weeks ago, were disinherited in his will, filed here yesterday.

Bernardini had divided his fifty-room Fort Wadsworth home several years ago, living in half of it, his wife occupying the other half. For ten years, although under the same roof, they had not spoken.

Mrs. Bernardini is barred from any share of the $2,000,000 estate over the amount of her dower rights, and a son, Alphonse, is disinherited because, the will says, he brought his father "much annoyance and worry" and already had received $65,000 from his father. The bulk of the estate goes to three other sons, Philip, Augusto and Michael, who will not receive the principal until they attain the age of 60 years. The money will be held in trust for them by John J. Pullen of Manhattan.

The three sisters of Bernardini receive $5000 each, and St. Sebastian, Italy, the banker's birthplace, gets $5000 for charity.

POLICE REFUSE HELP IN SEARCH FOR GIRL

FLIGHT ON WEDDING NIGHT IS INTERPRETED AS ELOPEMENT

BATTLE CREEK (Mich.) March 18.—The police of Battle Creek have refused the request of Joseph Nollinger, guardian for Miss Norma Payling, 18 years of age, to institute a search for her to follow her disappearance just before the time set for her wedding.

Miss Payling was to have been married to John H. Hutchings, 21. The license was issued the other afternoon and the guardian's permission had been obtained. According to the story told the police by Nollinger, the girl and her sister, Mrs. Maude O'Donnell of Detroit, fled from the house by the back door while guests were gathered for the wedding. The girl and her sister had gone upstairs to dress for the wedding.

Hutchings was a roomer at Nollinger's house. Miss Payling, according to neighbors, recently declared that she intended to break her engagement if possible. "I have seen Hutchings so much I am getting tired of him," she is quoted as saying a few days before the date set for the wedding.

Harold Downs, 22, who is said to have "kept company" with Miss Payling, has not been seen in Battle Creek since Saturday night. Nollinger told the police that he feared his ward had eloped with Downs. The police declared, however, that even if she had they could not interfere, as Nollinger had given his consent for the girl to wed and could not object to her marrying the man of her choice.

KINGSTON (Jamaica) March 18.—Capt. Jose Encosta of the American four-masted schooner Spindrift and his crew of seven men, who were picked up at sea by the United Fruit Company's steamer Carillo, have arrived here. The Spindrift met bad weather after leaving Jacksonville. Three of its masts were broken and it became a wreck. After it had been out six and a half days, the Carillo came up and took off the captain and crew.

Girl Who Drank Poison is Saved by Patrolman

NEW YORK, March 18.—Lifting a young woman to his shoulder after she lay screaming and groaning with pain as the result of drinking two ounces of iodine in front of a drug store, Patrolman Husslein ran into a store, snatched a glass of milk from a customer at the soda fountain and forced the milk down the woman's throat. Dr. Reubenstein of Gouverneur Hospital said Husslein's actions may have saved the woman's life. It was the second woman Husslein had saved in like manner within a week.

Third of Inch Rain Falls in South Arizona

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHOENIX, March 18.—A welcomed rain, averaging about one-third of an inch, has fallen generally over Southern Arizona, while the Weather Bureau reports three inches of snow at Flagstaff this morning. It is indicated a much heavier precipitation may follow.

FREIGHT CAR JUMPS RAILS AND IS "LOST"

ST. JAMES (Minn.) March 18.—A freight car was lost from an Omaha freight train in a most unusual manner near Brower. When the crew in the cabooses felt a slight jar they investigated and found the train had split in the middle. The two sections were connected when the run was finished. The next morning the station agent at St. James missed a car when he came to check up. Some section men found a car of corn resting on its back near the right of way fence, and, on examination, it was found to be the missing car.

SCOUTS TO MARK STREETS
FARGO (N. D.) March 18.—Boy Scouts will mark all streets and avenues of Fargo with signs which they have made themselves. W. A. Herrick, scout-executive, announced. The scouts decided to do the work as an act of civic duty. The markers were made in the manual training classes at high school and painted in a storeroom rented by the organization.

Why Is It?

WHY is there more argument about coffee than any other item of diet. Coffee has always needed defense—one of the few articles of diet that does.

No doubt exists about the fact that coffee contains caffeine, a drug which doctors prescribe as an emergency stimulant for the heart and nervous system; and many coffee drinkers know from experience that for them, coffee causes nervousness, headache or stomach trouble.

Since so many people, including health authorities, have reason to question coffee drinking, can you afford to risk your health with it—when you can have a safe mealtime drink, such as Postum?

You will like the delicious flavor of Postum. It fills every requirement of a hot drink; and many former coffee drinkers even prefer it to the best coffee.

With Postum as your mealtime beverage, your system free of caffeine, and your sleep sound and restful, you'll realize that Postum has established its genuine value in health and comfort.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in package) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

DESERT TRACT IS PRESERVED

Monument Keeps Land in Original State

Nineteen Hundred Acres in Arizona Reserved

Giant Saguaro Attains Height of Seventy Feet

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, March 18.—Located in the Salt River Valley, Arizona, the Papago Saguaro National Monument reserves a typical bit of the desert as it appeared before the famous Roosevelt Dam stored up the water that has made the desert bloom. Within its area is found a splendid collection of characteristic desert flora, including many striking examples of giant cactus (saguaro) and other interesting species of cacti, such as the prickly pear and cholla, locally known as "jumping cactus."

This local name is derived from the ease with which sections break off, the thorny joints giving the impression of actually leaping at the passer-by. Here and there are leafless palo verde and in the sandy washes thickets of cat-claw or scrubby mesquite. The most generally prevalent plant is the creosote bush, small, rounded bushes of dark-green hue. There also are many fine examples of the yucca palm, whose flower-laden stems in the spring fill the desert air with sweet perfume.

SAGUARO GROWS HIGH

But the desert's chief exhibit is the giant saguaro, from which the monument takes its name. This stately cactus rises in a splendid green column, accented by clusters of spines on the edges of the plate. The larger specimens grow as high as sixty or seventy feet, throwing out thick, powerful branches which bend sharply upward paralleling the main stock. In the spring, clusters of beautiful red flowers appear on the ends of the trunk and branches.

The bird life of the monument is that of the desert but some of the species are to be found nowhere else in the vicinity of the giant saguaro. The birds forming the "giant cactus association" include the saguaro screech owl, elf owl, little woodpecker, scissor-tailed flicker and Arizona crested flycatcher. Contrasting pictures of desert and cultivated lands may be viewed side by side. A sharp, straight approach to the hole on each side. It is a favorite picnic spot. Close by is a small mountain with a foot trail leading to the top. From this viewpoint one can almost see the entire monument area of more than 1900 acres.

Beyond in every direction, one sees the work of man, the large irrigation canals with smaller ones leading off, all marked by tree-lined banks, and then thousands on thousands of acres of fertile field that only a short time ago was a desert.

ROCKS ARE WORN

The rocks in the ridge have been worn considerably by the elements, resulting in caves and a few openings, and a trail leads through the rocks. One of these openings, Hole-in-the-Rock, is an aperture some fifteen feet high and twenty-five feet long with an amphitheater approach to the hole on each side. It is a favorite picnic spot. Close by is a small mountain with a foot trail leading to the top. From this viewpoint one can almost see the entire monument area of more than 1900 acres.

Beyond in every direction, one sees the work of man, the large irrigation canals with smaller ones leading off, all marked by tree-lined banks, and then thousands on thousands of acres of fertile field that only a short time ago was a desert.

LONG CHASE IN DIVORCE CASE ENDED

Process-Servers Enter Wife's Sleeping-Room on French Train

(BY GAMES-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PARIS, March 18.—From Maine to New York, from New York to London, and from London through nearly every continental capital, process-servers armed with divorce papers pursued Mrs. Adelaide Woodward for nearly a year until they succeeded in entering her sleeping apartment on the Basle Express at midnight last night and finally sealed the chase.

Next week the Paris courts will conduct a hearing of the elaborately tangled divorce proceedings of Mrs. Woodward, American electrical engineer and promoter, and his wealthy wife, stating she never lived in France permanently, Mrs. Woodward is contesting the action. She sailed for New York recently while her husband remained at the Ritz.

Mr. Woodward filed the original suit for divorce in Maine on May 8, 1928, on grounds of slander, charging that his wife circulated insidious and untrue rumors concerning his sobriety and management of her fortune. Mrs. Woodward sailed for Europe with process-servers on her heels, and then led them a merry chase throughout the continent.

The Woodward case involves the strictest legal entanglement because of the mixup of the Maine and New York and French divorce laws.

MRS. LILLIAN S. SEARS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PHOENIX, March 18.—At her home in this city, after a long illness, has occurred the death of Mrs. Lillian S. Sears, wife of Perry Sears. She was born in San Diego. She leaves her husband, two children, Mrs. Herbert Atha, Jr., of Huntington Park, and Mrs. Perry Oliver of Bixbee; two brothers, Beverly Cox of Phoenix and William H. Cox of Riverside, and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Brum of Perris, and Mrs. George Spangler of Santa Ana.

SCHICK CASE JURY IS NOT COMPLETED

Eleven Tentative Jurors Selected on Adjournment of Court for Day

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) SAN DIEGO, March 18.—Despite expectations, the jury was not completed today to try Edward Drew Clark for the asserted murder of George B. Schick. It may be completed in the morning, and testimony will begin at once, it was said, with Mrs. Schick as the first witness.

Some thirty-five talesmen were rejected today for various reasons. Eight declared they would not believe such a story as that which John Hendrix, convicted murderer, is expected to tell on the stand, of Clark's reputed confession to him in a jail cell. Several others said they would require positive proof of the death of Highway Patrolman Woodward, and others said they would vote to impose the death penalty. Still others said they would not vote away a man's life on purely circumstantial evidence, and they also were excused.

There were eleven tentative jurors in the box when court closed for the day.

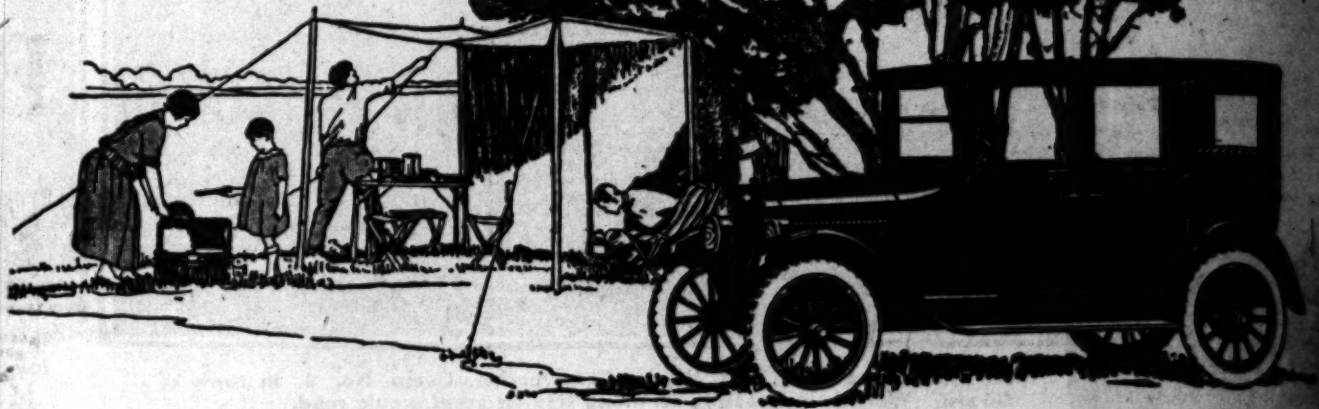

STAGE LINE PERMITS GRANTED IN ARIZONA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PHOENIX, March 18.—Permits have been authorized by the State Corporation Commission for operation of two stage lines from California into and through Arizona. The first is to the Arizona Borderland State Company, a California corporation, for operation along the Borderland Highway eastward from Yuma, via Phoenix, Florence, Tucson and Douglas to the New Mexico State line. Also favored was the Arizona Pacific Transit Company, which proposes to operate between Los Angeles and Phoenix, via Blythe and either Buckeye or Wickenburg.

TO USE OLD ELEVATORS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) FORT WILLIAMS (Ont.), March 18.—Two of the oldest elevators at this port, with a combined capacity of 2,500,000 bushels, and which have not been in use for more than a year, will be put into commission immediately to relieve the congestion at the head of the lakes. It is expected that the new elevator space will materially aid the movement from the West.

FOURTEEN FOR HULING JURORS

Extra Men Chosen to Guard Against Delays
Trial of Accused Will Last at Least a Month

Asserted Alford Accomplice Sees Vindication

(SPECIAL DISPATCH)
SAN BERNARDINO, March 18.—Guarding against illness among jurors and resultant delay in the trial of John A. Huling, a Los Angeles business man and asserted accomplice of Fred E. Alford in the asserted $30,000 Ontario fraud, fourteen jurors were selected yesterday to hear the case, a new chapter in criminal court history in San Bernardino county.

In the Alford case a year ago continuing for six weeks, a thirteenth juror was impaneled near the last days of the trial. Illness of a juror called him to the box, saving a delay of weeks. After the jury was impaneled, Clerk W. Martin began reading the indictment returned more than a year ago against Huling—a 100-page document. This task will require until noon tomorrow or later when Chief Deputy District Attorney H. H. Huling will make his opening address to the jury, briefly reviewing the asserted charges of obtaining money by misrepresentation and of conspiracy to defraud.

TWO HOMES ROBBED

Police of Santa Monica Without Clue to Thieves

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, March 18.—Careful investigation has failed to reveal clues as to the identity of daring daylight robbers who took more than $1,000 in cash and currency from two homes yesterday while occupants were away. The home of L. H. Hart, 1833 Wilshire Boulevard, was entered by thieves who pried open a bedroom window. More than $500 worth of jewelry and valuable documents were taken.

CHAMBER ORGANIZED AT UNIVERSAL CITY

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
UNIVERSAL CITY, March 18.—The Universal City Chamber of Commerce has completed its permanent organization by electing officers and adopting a constitution and by-laws. The officers are: President, P. H. Hocking; Vice-President, M. Boyd; Secretary, E. J. Yager; Treasurer, P. Hocking. It is expected the new organization will affiliate with the San Fernando Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce. The purpose of the association will be to promote the best interests of the community and co-operate with similar organizations in the valley in securing public improvements, equitable car fares, public parks and adequate school facilities.

Sierra Madre's Vistaria Vine Attracts Throng

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
SIERRA MADRE, March 18.—This city has been crowded the past few days with visitors to the vistaria fete in progress at the grounds of Henry T. Fennel on West Center avenue at scenic Point. The fete, which is sponsored by the Woman's Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Civic Association, centers around the blossoming of the wonderful vistarina vine which has attracted many visitors to this city each year. It is asserted that this vine is the largest in the world.

OWNERSHIP OF STILL PROBLEM OF POLICE

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
SOUTH PASADENA, March 18.—Newspapers printed in the Japanese language are the only clues police have to the ownership of a twenty-gallon still discovered yesterday in the hills in the southern part of the city. A quantity of mash wrapped in Japanese language newspapers was cached with the still. Chief of Police Frank Higgins believes that the moonshine liquor outfit had not been worked for some time but was hidden in the brush when the unknown owners moved the outfit to escape a raid.

REDLANDS BUSY WITH ORANGES

City Ships $60,000 Worth of Fruit Daily as Peak of Season is Reached

(SPECIAL DISPATCH)
REDLANDS, March 18.—Sixty thousand dollars' worth of oranges are rolling out of Redlands each day at the present time, the very height of the navel packing season in this district. Shippers say it is the finest fruit they have ever packed. Several cutters and wholesalers are to be stationed here and radio equipment will be sent up from Los Angeles Harbor. The handling of the crop is giving work to a small army of men and women. Pickers, packers, truck drivers, and others are busy day and night, for some of the houses are packing in shifts to supply the market.

TREE WRECKS HOUSE

Malap at Pomona Proves to be Costly Affair

(SPECIAL DISPATCH)
POMONA, March 18.—As a result of a sudden gust of wind which came at the moment when city park employees were about to fell a large eucalyptus tree, the home of Charles Pope, 161 West Piedmont street, is today an almost total wreck. The tree, which stood a distance of fifty feet east of the Pope home, fell with a crash and landed on the roof of the house. The entire structure will require rebuilding and refinishing at the city's expense, it is asserted.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
GLENDALE, March 18.—Maj. Roman Markos claims the distinction of being the only resident of Glendale who wears the "Cross of the Brave," which was conferred on him by the Polish government for his share in the battles of the 1920 anti-Bolshevik campaign. The little brown cross, with its red and white ribbon, forms one of Maj. Markos's proudest possessions, and he would like to know whether there are any other possessors of this decoration in this State. Maj. Markos resides at 457 West Doran street, Glendale.

VALLEY TOWNS RAISE GAS SERVICE BONUS

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
OWENSMOUTH, March 18.—The West End Improvement Association has raised the required $50,000 bonus to secure gas service through the Southern California Gas Company and has submitted a proposition to the company dealing with the construction of the fund and the time for starting work. It is believed a satisfactory agreement will be arrived at within a few days and that the work of installing the mains will be started soon and rushed to completion. The interested communities are Mission Acres, Zelma, Glard, Owensmouth, Reedda and the Weeks poultry colony. The association offers to pay one-fourth of the pledge upon the signing of the contract, another fourth when mains shall have been laid from Mission Acres to Zelma, one-fourth when they reach Reedda, and the balance when the work is finished.

Site for Naval Base Building is Taken on Lease

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
VENICE, March 18.—Lieutenant Commander R. W. Clark of the Naval Reserve announced today that a site had been selected on the Riviera and Venice canals for the Bay Cities naval base. The site is a plot of ground 40x60 feet, leased for five years from the city and from the Abbott Kinney company. About $30,000 will be spent for buildings and equipment.

RUMOR OF TYPHUS EPIDEMIC DENIED

(SPECIAL DISPATCH)
ORANGE, March 18.—Shattering widespread rumors that typhoid epidemic is prevalent in Orange, the city Board of Health, headed by Dr. W. C. H. Hocking, today issued an official statement declaring that only one positive case of typhoid fever exists in the city.

Steady Selling Hammers Grain. Options Lower

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, March 18.—Liquidation was on May wheat today, with houses with eastern credit selling the grain in small lots, which carried the price down to 1.84 1/2, equaling the low figure on the present downtown.

There was a lack of aggressive action in wheat, a good part of the day and the buying was largely in the form of short covering. There was nothing in the news to justify any great activity on the part of the grain market, but the fact that the price was down to 1.84 1/2, equaling the low figure on the present downtown.

DAILY MARKET LETTER OF THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
Announcement by the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association of advances of half a cent per pound on standard apricots, choice and slabs was no surprise to the trade, for it is known that apricots are short and that prices have been tending upward. The new prices become effective immediately. The announcement mentions that the Association has unsold only about 1200 tons. The local market was firm and supplies were notably scarce today. Holders were not inclined to offer.

There was a fair movement in both California and Oregon prunes at prices maintaining strictly at quoted levels. The widening market on Oregon prunes developed no new situation, although stocks of local fruit are believed to be greatly reduced.

The movement of raisins of all varieties continues in fair volume, new supplies being readily absorbed. The market is steady at well-maintained prices. Raisins are practically out of the market.

The underlying strength of the canned foods market is reflected in current prices on vegetables. The question of supplies appears to be of greater concern to the trade than prices. There were inquiries for many varieties which were obtainable. Peas, corn, tomatoes, asparagus and mushrooms were among the items sought. Spot canned goods showed no change in price today as a result of the reduction of warehouse stocks. There was a fair demand in evidence for standard cling peaches at $1.80 white apricots, pears, cherries and fruit salad are moving in a satisfactory way at prevailing quotations. Pineapple was somewhat neglected.

While there is a lack of activity in many varieties of canned fish the trade in pink, medium red and chinook salmon continues in fair volume.

The sugar market was unsettled and prices were uneven. The numerous fluctuations in the speculative market and the 10 to 40-point reduction named in refined sugar by the various refining interests. While the spot market for Cuban sugar has not yet settled down it was believed that the purchase of sugar by the United States government for a producing interest for March shipment at 5 cents cost and freight had established the market on a basis of 18 cents. It was reported that offers of Cuban sugar had been made for April shipment during the last few days. Federal cut the refined price to 1.50 cents but without a guarantee that it would be maintained. Orders shipped in transit are to be billed at 8.50 cents.

There was a rush of liquidation in sugar futures on call on Saturday. The market was unsettled and prices were uneven. OIL COMPANY'S PROFIT LARGER

Net Earnings of California Corporation Doubled

New Production Shows Great Increase for Year

Changes in Bank Personnel; Business News

One of the most successful performances in the petroleum industry of 1923 was reported yesterday by the California Petroleum Corporation in the annual statement released at the office of the company here, showing a net profit for the year of $6,104,938.91 after all charges, an increase over the previous twelve months of 66 per cent. After the payment of the 7 per cent dividends on the preferred stock, the company's net profit was equivalent of $7.54 on the outstanding common stock with a par value of $25. This compares with $4.3 for 1922.

The net profit for the year, according to the report, was equal to 20.37 per cent of the entire combined capital stock outstanding, as compared to 12.04 per cent in 1922 and 9.44 per cent in 1921. Gross earnings totaled $20,314,981.36, as against $11,835,759.66 in 1922 and $7,463,074.81 in 1921.

The increase in production is attributed by President I. W. Fuqua to the heavy increase in crude oil from the company's properties, after all deductions from royalties oil belonging to lessors and other outside interests, was 14,341,984 barrels, as compared with 7,936,558 for 1922, an increase of 80.4 per cent. The average daily production was 39,293 barrels in 1923, compared with 19,251 barrels in 1922. Sixty-six new wells were completed and brought in during the year, from which were produced 7,562,788 barrels of oil. The drilling activity was confined principally to the proven fields in Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Net current assets, consisting of cash amounting to $4,302,100.08, inventories of $42,185.19, accounts receivable and other inventories, total $10,688,702.72, over approximately three times current liabilities.

The balance sheet also shows a surplus appropriated for redemption of preferred stock and bonds of subsidiary companies of $2,613,465.18, and an unappropriated surplus of $10,301,659.50. The sinking fund for the retirement of the preferred stock, which is callable at 120, shows the ownership purchased in November, at a cost of $247,718.03.

The contract entered into by the California Petroleum Corporation with the Union Oil Company of California covering a maximum delivery of 3,550,000 barrels of oil per annum for a period of three years, at a price substantially in excess of the market conditions, expired in November. A new contract was approved by the board of directors for the sale of 36,000,000 barrels of oil over a period of three years, to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The agreement was effective August 1, 1923, and regular deliveries, according to President Fuqua's statement, have been made since on fuel oil and gasoline in New York on the date of loading in Los Angeles Harbor.

The total gross sales of crude and refined oil in 1923 were divided into 14,411,668 barrels of crude oil having a value of $16,820,097.51, and 48,625 barrels of value of $176,549.00, selling at 2.210. Total sales were $17,096,646.51 at an average price of $1.17, which compares with $10,785,352.44 at $1.46, per barrel in 1922.

WHAT THE WORLD WANTS

From the Four Corners and Seven Seas Come Curious Demands on Uncle Sam's Storehouse.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
The work of compiling government information for trade and business may seem rather humdrum and uninteresting, and the data gathered may be suspected of being as dry as the dust in a law library, but it all depends on the point of view. It is possible for one to wear rose-colored spectacles and see a good deal of humor and interest in even the most matter-of-fact of such government activities. By peering delectably through the chinks and crannies of Washington work, one can find all manner of entertainment.

For instance, take one of the most formidable of compilations. It is a periodical list of demands for foreign importers for types American goods. At first glance it bears a close resemblance to a catalogue, but the little in hand forbidding of all printed documents, a railroad time-table.

The key to the humor of such a dull compilation lies in the general title which it bears. This list is prepared for distribution to manufacturers and exporters, and all sorts of traders throughout the country to give them an idea of what sort of goods are in request from distant countries. For this reason it very properly has been given the title: "What the World Wants."

The directions for having a good time from this dull catalogue are to keep the mind in mind reading down the columns. For instance we find that the portion of the world called England wants toy balloons.

Probably manufacturers of rubber goods merely read this as a record of an order received from some British firm for toy balloons. But, taken in relation to the general title, "What the World Wants," the reader may conjure up a diverting picture of the personification of England, John Bull, strenuously endeavoring to buy a toy balloon. He may want to carry it in to the House of Lords to keep him awake during the debates, or he may want to carry it through the nave of Westminster Abbey to give a bit of color to the somber scenes. But for whatever purpose, the record shows that a cry for toy balloons has gone up from England and has been heard by the ever-attentive ear of the American Department of Commerce.

GREEKS WANT BEEHIVES
Now, suppose we take another country to show how varied are the things which the world wants. Greece, the United States government gravely advises, wants beehives. We can imagine the Athenians gathering in the ruined perches of the Acropolis and discussing among themselves their passionate longing for beehives. We remember that in song and myth and thousands of years the bees of Hybla were among the finest live stock which Greece produced. But apparently, the bees of Hybla have lost their homes for the Greeks are demanding beehives.

Curiously enough from Greece also comes a demand for emery stone grinding machinery. Now emery stone grinding machinery is used for putting sharp points and edges on things. Is it possible that after the Greeks get their American beehives, they will sharpen some bees to put into them, they intended to use emery wheels with which to sharpen the bees' stings? This seems hardly probable but, nevertheless the idea presents itself.

Now from far off New Zealand comes a demand that is rather startling. New Zealand wants corsets. We are inclined to think of New Zealand as one of those new parts of the world—the wide open spaces when men are men and all dictates that it has made a splendid record in the local mortgage field. Current assets are given as $1,921,323. This company was organized about a year ago and financed by local capital. Orta E. Monette, president, stated that the business of the company is proceeding along sound profitable lines and that there is every reason to look forward to a successful and profitable future.

LONG BEACH BONDS
The bond department of the Bank of Italy is offering $500,000 Long Beach City High School District 5 per cent serial bond bonds due March 1, 1925 to 1934, inclusive, at prices to yield 4.75 per cent. The bonds are legal investment for savings banks in California, tax exempt in California and free from Federal income and excess profits taxes.

The Long Beach City High School District includes the city of Long Beach, which is situated twenty-two miles south of Los Angeles and has an estimated population of approximately 27,000. The bank deposits for the year 1923 amounted to $2,845,963, and $52,010 in 1922. The city now has 245 industrial with a total capital of $25,000,000, compared with fifty-one factories with a capital of $1,355,000 in 1923.

SPREADING GOSPEL OF BUSINESS

National Advertisers Spent Nearly Hundred Million Last Year

"According to many marketing authorities and one of the best indications of sound and prosperous business in 1924 is the volume of advertising during 1923," declared Lee Maxwell, president of the Crowell Publishing Company in a statement issued yesterday.

"Looking back over the last ten years we find that the total expenditures of the seventy-five largest and most consistent advertisers in each of these years was materially greater in 1923 than the total expenditure for any of the preceding years. This statement is based on the Crowell annual analysis of national markets and national advertising in the United States just completed for 1923.

"Taking this fact into consideration and also the fact that there is no indication of a curtailing of expenditures by these advertisers but rather continued expansion, the outlook now seems to be unusually favorable.

"The total expenditures in thirty national magazines of the leading seventy-five advertisers in each of the last ten years, as given by the Crowell survey are as follows:

Year	Amount
1913-1914	$1,921,323
1914-1915	$2,845,963
1915-1916	$3,760,510
1916-1917	$4,675,057
1917-1918	$5,590,604
1918-1919	$6,505,151
1919-1920	$7,419,698
1920-1921	$8,334,245
1921-1922	$9,248,792
1922-1923	$10,163,339
1923-1924	$11,077,886

The total expenditure for national advertising by twenty-three main classes of business was $98,180,823 in 1923. This is greater than for any year of the ten-year period except 1920 when the expenditure was $104,141,034.

The largest advertiser in 1923 (Campbell Soup Company) expended $14,644,358, while in 1924 the largest advertiser was The Procter & Gamble Co. with an expenditure of $620,426.

In 1923 five concerns—Campbell Soup Company; Colgate & Co.; Procter & Gamble Co.; Congoleum Company, Inc.; and The Talking Machine Company—each spent more than $1,000,000 for national advertising.

"Of the twenty-three main classes of business the automotive industry led with a total expenditure of $14,644,358. Drugs and toilet goods were second with $13,800,390. Foods and food beverages third with $12,746,662.

"These figures from the Crowell study of national markets and national advertising are based on the advertising carried by thirty national non-farm magazines

$14,000,000 Southern California Edison Company Refunding Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds Due October 1, 1943

Price 99 and Interest, Yielding Over 6 Per Cent

Issuance Authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of California. The Company agrees to pay interest without deduction for the Normal Federal Income Tax up to 34. Exempt from Personal Property Taxes in California.

All Bonds heretofore issued under this Mortgage are legal investments for Savings Banks in California and application has been made to the Superintendent of Banks to so certify these additional bonds.

The following information is taken from official sources:

The Southern California Edison Company operates one of the most comprehensive systems in the world for the generation, transmission and distribution of electricity for power and lighting purposes. The territory served embraces ten large counties in Southern and Central California (including Los Angeles) with a population of over 1,500,000 and an area of 55,000 square miles—equal to the combined area of Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware and New Jersey. The properties include generating plants with a present installed capacity of 503,100 H.P., of which $76,000 H.P. is hydro-electric. The principal development of the company on the Big Creek and San Joaquin Rivers is the largest hydro-electric project ever undertaken in this or any other country. The latest power plant of this development with a capacity of 105,000 H.P. was placed in operation on October 1, 1923, and is the largest hydro-electric unit on the Pacific Coast. The generating plants operated by the company have a total installed capacity of 503,100 H.P., of which 376,000 H.P. is derived from water power.

The Company's total bonded debt, including this issue, is $114,629,100, followed by $54,573,672 of dividend paying capital stocks, each class of stock being quoted at a premium. In addition to these stocks outstanding, the Company has subscriptions for $7,869,900 Preferred and Common stocks, which are being paid for on the partial payment plan. Dividends have been paid on the Common stock since 1910, the present rate being 8 per cent. Of more than 67,000 stockholders over 90 per cent are consumers and of more than five thousand employees, over 90 per cent are stockholders.

For the year ended January 31, 1924, gross earnings were $20,545,430; net earnings were $11,590,068, while the annual interest on the total funded debt, including this issue, is $6,501,688. As of January 31, 1924, approximately $24,350,000 had been expended on properties from which no revenue was then being received.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send circulars describing the issue in detail.

THREE ESSENTIALS OF BUSINESS SUCCESS

I will day of intensive competition, honesty and integrity alone will not build up a business.

Three essentials, the ability, the capacity and the willingness to serve must be the watchword of the institution.

Broad Smiles That Proved To Be Premature

DOHENY BRINGS HEAVY GUARD

Millionaire Oil Man Has Busy Time Dodging

Camera-Shy During Visit to Grand Jury

Port Lease Hearing Put Off Until Tomorrow

Plenty of excitement and no testimony was the net result of the personal appearance of Edward L. Doherty before the county grand jury in its harbor graft investigation.

The oil magnate became the storm center of the day when he arrived at the Hall of Records surrounded by attorneys and guards and departed amid the booming of flashlights and newspaper photographers when it developed that the grand jury was hearing another matter.

IN CIRCLE OF GUARDS

Mr. Doherty finally made his escape with the help of a fleet of automobiles and a small army of defenders without telling the grand jury what he knows of the two Pan-American Petroleum Company's leases at the harbor or Edgar McKee's trip to Hawaii on the Doherty yacht. McKee, the former president of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, was removed by Mayor Cryer several days ago. His trip to Honolulu on the Canadian, the Doherty yacht, preceded by six months or so the granting to the Doherty company of a valuable lease.

The camera-shy oil magnate will return tomorrow morning, with Earl C. Cramer, dredging contractor, Harbor Engineer Ludlow and others subpoenaed by Dist. Atty. Keyes for yesterday.

COUNSEL GO EAST

While Mr. Doherty was dodging cameras, the Federal government suit to cancel Doherty's oil lease in California Naval Reserve No. 1 was at a standstill. Earlier in the day United States Judge James M. McKee named the Merchant's National Bank of Los Angeles as the depository for the connection with the conservatorship ordered by him the day before for the Doherty Elk Hills leases. The government's counsel, former Senator Alden F. Pennington and Owen J. Roberts, left for Washington as the defendants answer to the government suit can be made in the next thirty days.

The Hall of Records visit by Mr. Doherty and his attorneys was in response to subpoenas issued by Dist. Atty. Keyes and Dep. Dist. Atty. Shelley. Mr. Keyes and Mr. Shelley were in conference in Mr. Keyes' office when Doherty and his guards arrived.

FINGER PRINTS IN GEM STORE

Believed Clew to Robbery on West Seventh

Crime Committed in Full View of Street

Hole Through Glass of Front Door for Entry

Finger prints found by the police on a glass-cutter and a hammer may lead, it is believed, to the early apprehension of the burglar who early yesterday morning cut his way into the Montgomery Brothers jewelry store at 425 West Seventh street and obtained from $10,000 to $15,000 worth of diamond rings and a few other articles of miscellaneous jewelry.

The glass-cutter, the hammer, and a piece of cloth were found on the floor just inside the front door of the establishment. A hole large enough to admit the body of a man had been cut in the glass of the door.

After a later investigation of the burglary yesterday afternoon, Capt. Cahill stated that the chief amount of the loot obtained by the burglar was the rings, which had been put away in a show case. The burglar, it was reported, apparently believing that he had a fortune in the rings alone, overlooked about $15,000 worth of watches, included in the list of miscellaneous jewelry were two clocks, a topaz ring and a brooch and several sample cases.

The burglary, it was reported, was committed in full view of the street. Officials of the jewelry company told the police that strong lights are kept burning in the store throughout the night, and anyone working on the inside could have been easily observed from the sidewalk.

STATE CREDIT MEN GATHER

McConnell, Marion Skees and Lucy Hill.

Hollywood's latest Beau Brummel appeared in a skit without revealing his identity on the program and a humorous version of "The Fight" concluded the entertainment. The cast of "The Fight" included H. E. Rose, H. P. Burns, S. P. Chase, A. D. Kline, Z. V. Smith, Jeanette McDonald, Mary Ann Duffy, Maybelle Barnett, Betty Bickner and E. P. Durbin.

The Syncopeating Syncopeaters, conducted by Eddie Burke, provided the music.

ENTHUSIASM REIGNS
Enthusiasm prevailed yesterday among local and visiting credit managers, for the convention is expected to produce many innovations in credit extension and to iron out many existing credit obstructions.

Occupying special cars attached to the Southern Pacific Owl, the principal delegation of California, those from San Francisco and adjacent cities, are to be welcomed here at 8:30 a.m. today. They will be rushed from their train to the Clark Hotel and then to the convention floor. More than 100 men are expected to make up the party. Several score delegates arrived yesterday. Most of these arrivals were from Southern California cities and arrived yesterday afternoon in advance to attend the vaudeville show last night. Tours of the wholesale district of the city occupied most of yesterday afternoon.

PLAN RECEPTION

Even more elaborate reception ceremonies are to be staged today. A caravan of automobiles, each driven by a local credit man, will convey the delegation to the hotel. The reception will be under personal direction of Fred Hilbert, of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, and the automobiles will be under direction of S. C. Hookstratten, credit man for the L. J. Christopher Company.

An important feature of the morning's program will be an address by J. H. Tregoe of New York City, secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Credit Men. Other national officers scheduled for addresses are Eugene S. Elkus of San Francisco, first vice-president, and A. J. Goldwater, director.

TO END THURSDAY

After the invocation has been offered by Rt. Rev. Bertrand W. Stevens, bishop coadjutor of Episcopal diocese, Los Angeles and Monterey, A. P. Stepan, president of Los Angeles credit men, will welcome the visitors. The response is to come from C. C. Beck, president of the San Francisco.

C. F. Longley and P. M. Couch, of Los Angeles, are to speak, respectively, on "Uses and Abuses of Credit" and "Saving the Drowning Merchant Through Business Services."

The convention will continue in session until Thursday night.

WINS DIPLOMA; NEVER IN HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

GIRL CRIPPLE FOR YEARS, HAS TAKEN FULL COURSE AT HER HOME

A high school diploma will be awarded Anita Burge next June, although she has never attended a high school class. The girl, a cripple for years, took the entire high school course at her home, 2114 Ninth avenue.

She became ill five years ago and since that time has been unable to walk only a few steps at a time. Determined to obtain an education, however, she began to study at her home. A home-study teacher aided her and she has succeeded in passing all her examinations so far with high grades.

FIND NO TRACE OF DUNLAP IN CALEXICO

Harry Dunlap, notorious badge bandit and murder suspect, is not at Calexico and hasn't been there for some time. Deputy Sheriff Modine, Hunter and Jones notified the Sheriff's office last night. The three deputies were sent to Calexico after reports had reached the city that Dunlap was in the border town.

LODGE TO GIVE PLAY

Members of the Primrose Lodge, No. 235, Daughters of St. George, Pasadena, will present the farce "The Beantown Choir" tomorrow evening at the Georgia-street Auditorium. The play will be directed by Mrs. Teresa Kelsey and the proceeds will be for the benefit of Primrose and Windsor Castle lodges.

SHAPES PLANS FOR UNIVERSITY DANCE

Miss Evelyn Smith

Following the "Hello" spirit program launched at the first of this semester by the Wampus Bachelors, the University of Southern California will hold its first all-university progressive dance and entertainment Thursday night. Five fraternities and sorority houses, the Pi Phi, Delta Gamma, Alpha Chi, Lambda Psi and Phi Alpha, will act as hosts to the nonorganization and fraternal men and women on the campus.

The purpose of the program is to acquaint the members of the student body with the social life of the university. Various vaudeville acts have been provided for the amusement of those who do not dance. Five orchestras, under the direction of Gene Johnson, will furnish the music.

"Only bona fide Trojans are invited," says Miss Evelyn Smith, chairman of the committee in charge.

CHIEF SCOTT MADE ASSISTANT WARDEN

WILL HAVE CHARGE OF SOUTHERN FIRE DISTRICT

Fire Chief Scott was made assistant State warden in charge of the Southern district yesterday by State Fire Marshal Jay W. Stevens. In addition, virtually each fire chief in Southern California was made a deputy fire marshal by Mr. Stevens. The ceremonies were conducted in the office of Chief Scott at 444 South Figueroa street.

CHRIS PLEAD GUILTY

Catherine Wallace, 19 years of age, and La Brea Sagray, 23, pleaded guilty to a petty larceny charge in Police Judge Sheldon's court yesterday. They were arrested in a downtown department store after an attempt to steal a dress. The girls stated that they had been eating for the last three days.

hat and a benevolent smile on his ruddy face as he started for the door to the waiting room. Both came off as the newspaper photographers pointed the cameras in the direction of the Doheny party. There was a loud boom, a flash of light and Mr. Doheny was inside the door. He was followed by a with him. Once safely inside they took seats and waited for their call.

In the meantime Dist. Atty. Keyes discovered that a minor robbery case was slid into the grand jury at the Georgia-street harbor inquiry. Mr. Doheny, who was chatting with Judge Wellborn, wanted to know if there was a chance of the grand jury being able to hear him during the latter part of the afternoon. Mr. Keyes went in and consulted with the grand jury. He returned and announced that Mr. Doheny will be heard tomorrow morning.

All the other harbor inquiry witnesses were told to return with Mr. Doheny.

BOOM! BOOM!

Mr. Doheny's progress down the hall toward the elevator was fast. Two camera men made a lunge forward. Judge Wellborn flanked the oil magnate on the left and the other guard came somewhat behind. As one of the camera men let go with his flashlight gun, Doheny ducked, burying his face in the bosom of an onrushing reporter.

The successful evasion of this "shot" so elated the oil magnate that his smile returned and his hat was on its way back to his head when a second, and more successful, attempt from another direction, was flashed on him. By this time the elevator was ready and Doheny, attorneys, guards, reporters and the ever-present camera men went shooting downward.

The Doheny entourage remained in the cage until it reached the New High-street exit. There the oil man was greeted by more guards. Three eager young men, one of them identified as Olin Wellborn, III, formed a ring of interference, placing themselves between the photographers and Mr. Doheny.

"We may have a lawsuit on our hands, but we can smash some of these cameras," Doheny, one of the attorney-guards said on the way to the street.

"Go ahead," came a ready answer as the oil man lifted the hat to another angle to avoid a camera pointed at him.

Out on the street the guards and attorneys attempted an end run around the camera men. Some of them were "boxed" out by the reporters, leaving Mr. Doheny with only three defenders between him and the glowering lenses. While the reporters were tangling with the "interference," Doheny made a bee line for the larger of the two automobiles parked in the middle of the street.

The camera shutters clicked, the motors barked, the various and sundry guards and attorneys made a rush for their respective cars, and the whole caravan dashed out, headed north.

HAVEN HERE FOR WIFE OF REBEL CHIEF

Family of De la Huerta on Way to Line in Special Car of President

Mrs. Adolfo De la Huerta, wife of the Mexican revolutionary leader, with her children is on the way from Mexico City to Los Angeles, where she will live until her husband joins her here or until she can join him in Mexico, said a dispatch yesterday from official Mexican sources.

Mrs. De la Huerta has been at Mexico City since the outbreak of the revolt led by her husband from Vera Cruz, and recently, it is said, he telegraphed her from Frontera to the effect that there was no hope for the success of the revolt.

The wife of the rebel chief is traveling to the border at Laredo in a private car, furnished by President Obregon, with a guard of troops and the honors that would accord a diplomat. The President insisted on this honor to the wife of his enemy as soon as he heard of Mrs. De la Huerta's intention to leave the country. The private car in which she travels is one of the finest in Mexico—the same as the Mrs. Obregon used for her recent trip to her home in Sonora. It is expected that Mrs. De la Huerta will reach here Thursday.

The De la Huertas, like the Obregons, are from Sonora, and the well-to-do people of that State always have made Los Angeles their favorite summer resort and any shopping center. The fact that Mrs. De la Huerta has chosen to come here, therefore, may have no political significance. Some observers are of the opinion that De la Huerta will try to continue the harassing warfare in Southern Mexico, and that he will leave shortly and find refuge in Cuba or the United States. If the modern latter method is correct, it is likely that he would come here to join his wife. A brother, Alfonso De la Huerta, has been a resident of Pasadena for some time.

BOY KILLED IN TRAFFIC; ONE IS HURT

Fatality Victim Run Down by Auto; Lad in Hospital May Die

Manuel Cabrillo, 14 years of age, was fatally injured yesterday in a traffic accident at Pasadena and Dayton avenues. The boy was struck down in front of his home by a touring car driven by John Darnell of 3431 Arroyo Seco avenue and died at the Receiving Hospital a short time after the accident.

Thomas Baird, 6, of 1234 1/2 Senoos street, was perhaps fatally injured at the intersection of Highland and Dayton streets when he darted directly in front of a machine driven by Bert W. Brown of 1407 Grand street. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where physicians stated he had but a slight chance for life.

Large Reward for Arrest of Jewel Bandits

A reward of $3000 for the arrest of Jimmie Blanton and Bill O'Conner, alias W. H. Conner, has been offered by the Los Angeles Police Department.

The two camera men made a lunge forward. Judge Wellborn flanked the oil magnate on the left and the other guard came somewhat behind. As one of the camera men let go with his flashlight gun, Doheny ducked, burying his face in the bosom of an onrushing reporter.

The successful evasion of this "shot" so elated the oil magnate that his smile returned and his hat was on its way back to his head when a second, and more successful, attempt from another direction, was flashed on him. CHAMPIONS WAYS OF MODERN GIRL

Mrs. Frederic M. Paist

The problem presented by the young girl of today is to come in for expert study at the national convention of the Y.W.C.A. in New York City, which opens today.

Mrs. Frederic M. Paist, national president of the association, stated yesterday. She is here for a series of conferences with local Y.W.C.A. officials in regard to the convention.

Mrs. Paist, a sister of Chief Justice Wilbur whose appointment as Secretary of the Navy was confirmed yesterday by the Senate, made it plain that the bureau of the girl has been more or less libeled. The shortcomings of the girl of today have been overemphasized, she indicated, while her unquestionable virtues have been overlooked.

Many of the things for which the modern young women have been censured, she stated, grow out of the very natural desire of these girls for greater self-government. The girl of today is apt to think that nothing had ever been accomplished before she took charge, Mrs. Paist stated, but this belief, she added, is a youthful enthusiasm.

Numerous changes in the constitution of the association also are to be studied at the national convention. One of the most important of these changes is the proposal to broaden the basis on which girls can become members. Heretofore only those girls who were members of Protestant Evangelical churches could become members but if the proposed change is made effective any girl may become a member if she takes a pledge of loyalty to the purposes and ideals of the organization.

Mrs. Paist, who also is the sister of Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, was the guest of honor at a reception and tea to be given by officers and members of the local association at the home of Mrs. Simon Crabbill, 511 South Hobart boulevard.

Another appraisal reported yesterday was that of the estate of Maria D. Guyer, who died in this city September 24, 1923. The estate is valued at $212,053.95. Two daughters, Leila D. Guyer and Lillian S. Timken each inherit $90,334, the residue going to distant relatives. The tax is $4689.24.

ALLIANCE HAS MEETING

Members of the Alliance of Social Agencies of Los Angeles met last night in regular monthly meeting at the Y.M.C.A. E. J. Scudder of the Veterans' Bureau, and Mrs. Boyle Workman of the California Humane Association were members of their work with the ex-service men.

PATROLMAN TO FACE CHARGE OF BRUTALITY

Charges of brutality on the part of Patrolman John D. McMullen were filed yesterday by J. C. Lester with the Board of Police Commissioners and so serious were the charges that the board directed Chief Vollmer to suspend McMullen and report the result of the Chief's investigations to the commission next Tuesday morning.

Lester charged that on the night of February 4, last, Patrolman McMullen attacked Lester after Lester charged that on the night of February 4, last, Patrolman McMullen had encountered McMullen while dining in a cafe at 286 1-2 South Los Angeles street.

RAINFARER NOT DRENCHED YET

Glendale Man Busy in Kings County Apparently Missed by Weather Man

Rainmaker Charles Hatfield of Glendale, who is wooing rain in Kings county was passed up by the weather man yesterday. Despite the fact that Hatfield has been busy on his towers since Saturday in an effort to pull some moisture from the skies but .02 of an inch of rain was recorded at a majority of Kings county points Monday and the storm waited southward where a general soaking rain was delivered far from the rainmaker's province Monday night and Tuesday.

Hatfield has contracted with ranchers in the Lemoore, Coalinga and Corcoran districts to deliver two inches of rain by April 15 for $2000 with an additional $1000 for each quarter-inch over that mark. Ranchers have deposited $8000 in a Kings county bank as evidence of good faith.

MORE RAINFALL IN SOUTHLAND

bara and Ventura county points fared but little better. The Government Weather Bureau at Calexico in the Imperial valley, where it had not rained this year, recorded .05 of an inch precipitation, but it was reported that the storm was not general throughout the valley.

Despite the fact that it was clear last evening, Weather Bureau officials said it was possible that night showers might fall during the night. According to Col. H. B. Hershey, head of the bureau, the storm was over with the possible exception of these showers.

FLOOD CONTROL TO BE VOTED ON

Construction of this reservoir would flood the Rose Bowl. The Los Angeles flood control district, to the voters of which the bond issue will be submitted, includes all of Los Angeles county south of the ridge of the Sierra Madre range, exclusive of the islands.

Only a majority vote is required to approve the issue. In this respect a flood-control bond election differs from an election on bonds for any other purpose, as it requires a two-thirds majority to carry bonds for any other purpose under the law of California.

BARTLETT ESTATE IS TWO MILLIONS

A. G. Bartlett, who died in this city, February 5, 1923, left an estate of $2,111,269.34, according to appraisal. Mary Augusta Bartlett, widow, Bessie Herbert Bartlett and Florence E. Bartlett, two daughters, each inherit one-third. The tax is $15,137.

Another appraisal reported yesterday was that of the estate of Maria D. Guyer, who died in this city September 24, 1923. The estate is valued at $212,053.95. Two daughters, Leila D. Guyer and Lillian S. Timken each inherit $90,334, the residue going to distant relatives. The tax is $4689.24.

BETTER AND BETTER
 Once more the Mexican republic is ahead of normalcy and it looks as if the improvement would be sustained.

THE REASON WHY
 One candid lady explains that a great many women marry merely to keep some other woman from having the man. This apology does not make life any easier for the men, however.

THE WARRIORS
 The Really Board is calling for real estate brokers who can sing. This is easy. There are hundreds of high-class warriors who would make a Caruso envious. They sing their way into the hearts of the listening multitude.

OVER THE BORDER
 Last year Canada exported only some $15,000,000 of whisky across the American border and there is a suspicion that quite a block of stuff came across without getting into the record. But even $15,000,000 worth is quite a slice when it is realized that none of it had the right of entry.

LENGTH OF YEARS
 There is a man at Lawrence who has worked sixty-five years for the local gas company. He holds the Massachusetts record for sustained service to a corporation and it is not likely that there are more than half a dozen in the world who can surpass it. Do not make light of the gas man.

THE PER CAPITA TAX
 If every man, woman and child in the country would put up $250 the nation would be completely free of all its indebtedness as well as of all existing financial obligations. There are a lot of men who would like to sit down and write a check for $250 and square accounts with the government—but it can't be done in that way. Per capita is not permitted to discharge the per capita tax.

MAKING PROGRESS
 Reports of the Federal Reserve Board agree that America last year produced more, spent more and saved more than ever. That shows that there was something doing all the time. When we spend more we may be making more progress than when we save, but it is fine to know that we are doing both. Up to the hour of going to press the country was still safe, in spite of inside attempts to scuttle the ship.

TAPPING THE POLES
 The Polish government next year expects to take over the complete monopoly of the alcohol traffic within the boundaries of the nation. By so doing the government calculates a profit of over 200,000,000 francs, or about three times as much money as is now yielded. There may be a lot of money in the business. If they use creosote to flavor imitation Scotch that brand should be good for Poles. Licensemen say creosote will keep poles alive.

TRICK AND ARTIFICE
 A French scientist is making a wood more firm and beautiful than oak or mahogany by mixing certain sawdusts, chalk and cheap chemicals together and subjecting them to high pressure. The product can be made to take a high polish and is virtually fireproof. We get sawdust in making lumber and then we make lumber from sawdust, but how long can this thing keep up? There must be a catch in it somewhere. Is this a conservation measure or mostly conversation?

MONEY BACK
 Mr. Doherty must have toted fair with the government last season. At least Uncle Sam refunded some $40,000 of income tax that was overpaid. It also appears that the government made a refund of $9,360, 000 in another case. That was certainly some rebate. Not even a newspaper reporter like Frank Vanderlip could overpay his income tax to that extent. In this instance the refund went to the estate of Oliver Payne. The administration can be relied upon to pay back any overcharges when they can be checked up and verified.

THE UNIVERSAL DRAFT
 One of the biggest Cappers for the United States State is offering a measure which provides for a universal draft. It is guaranteed to break up all wars and might easily have been submitted in competition for the Bok peace prize. Senator Capper's bill would authorize the President on the threat of any war to immediately draft the monetary and industrial resources of the nation. While taking the men and boys for cannon fodder the higher-ups and all their money would also be instantly placed where they could be of the most service to the nation. There could be conscription of private fortunes as well as of men and women. In case of war every man and every dollar would be automatically put to work for the government and all private enterprise would cease. If this could be an enactment by all nations people would put up with an insult or two before embarking upon a program of military retaliation.

FOR THE STABILITY OF MEXICO
 The conditions attending the collapse of the revolution in Mexico will undoubtedly have an important bearing upon the future foreign policy of the United States. President Coolidge, in consenting to the shipment of arms to Gen. Obregon, took a forward step of immense importance to diplomatic history. He put teeth and reasonableness into the Monroe Doctrine.

In many ways the Monroe Doctrine has been an amazing diplomatic principle. It virtually prohibited the nations of Europe from intervening to protect the interest of their nationals. Yet it offered them no protection at our hands. In consenting to the shipment of arms across the border to Obregon the President has placed the power of this country behind the established order of things in Mexico. He has made "government by revolution" a virtual impossibility.

This transforms, at one stroke, the Monroe Doctrine into a reassurance for the nations of Europe. It becomes a pledge of stability in the Western Hemisphere. It removes from foreign powers their last excuse for resentment.

President Coolidge's executive order will accomplish a great good that will be felt throughout the world. The world is growing small. It is becoming overcrowded. It is being used up. Mexico is the greatest of all the few remaining unspoiled ore pockets—one of the few unworked pastures of the world.

The people of this world need what Mexico can produce. Yet for more than a decade this sorely needed storehouse has been closed from the world—wasted to be a battleground for peripatetic and vagrant revolutions.

Gen. Obregon has shown that the government of which he is the honored head can assure Mexico a firm, reasonable, stable government under which the wrecked and shattered industries can be rebuilt. By permitting arms to be shipped to Gen. Obregon President Coolidge has made it possible for the bouquet of scattered revolutions to be crushed and smashed. The various game-cock Napoleons have been soundly spanked and Mexico is at peace once more.

The policy of the President virtually assures the continuance of that peace. Most of all, best of all, President Coolidge has taken a stand that will make the Monroe Doctrine mean something. The congratulations of the world are due to President Coolidge and President Obregon. Instead of a waiting policy which he might have pursued President Coolidge had the courage and initiative to take this important step, even in the face of opposition. President Obregon has displayed courage, patriotism and ability in dealing with trying situations. He has manifested at all times a strong determination to stabilize Mexico and to lay the foundation for recognition and for the respect of other nations. President Obregon's courageous patriotism, backed by President Coolidge's action, has created greater strength and sounder stability for Mexico than the southern republic has had in a decade.

JUDGMENT OF SOLOMON
 Banished from his native land, regarded as persona non grata in Switzerland, the exiled Caliph of the Mohammedans is reported to be desirous of finding refuge in California.

This Caliph in exile presents a unique moral and social problem; for the Caliphate has always recognized that it is not good for man to live alone—a peculiar mingling of Christian and Moslem faith—and he is accompanied by three of his wives.

He acquired them legally and says that he cannot violate his conscience by turning them adrift in a cold and unsympathetic world. But the Swiss government does not recognize polygamy, and the Swiss sense of morality is offended when a man lives in the democracy openly and notoriously with three women.

Southern California would perhaps not be averse to adding a Caliph to its steadily increasing list of attractions and celebrities. But how are we to evade the question of plurality of wives, now agitating the Swiss?

What will our women say about it? Each of those wives has a legal right to her husband, she acquired him openly and honorably. Who is to say which shall be entitled to his undisputed possession? And who will accept the responsibility for the two luckless spouses that would be turned adrift?

Perhaps we might be content to recognize the Caliph's right to what he has legally acquired. But here is the greatest menace. Report has it that the Caliph actually possessed 1000 wives. There is a Turkish maxim about what happens if the camel is permitted to get his nose into the tent. If the Caliph has a right to three wives he has an equal right to the whole 1000.

The Times confesses that it is not clear as to the point at which the conflicting rights should be compromised. Perhaps some of its astute readers can be of assistance in solving the problem of the much married Caliph in exile.

A judgment of Solomon: that is what is needed. And the problem would have been readily solved, no doubt, by the wives and venerable King of Israel; for it will be remembered that the author of the Proverbs numbered among his personal acquisitions 1000 wives.

DEAD MONEY
 Not many people, we believe, have the imagination to picture anything so far-fetched as dead money. Nothing to the ordinary expectant mind is so perennially alive as the active dollar. Dead men, dead books, dead soldiers, dead languages, dead cities, dead beasts, even dead army mules, we accept as part of the inevitable. But that elusive, attractive substance, whose free circulation is the very life blood of any American community; to be told that in the widest-awake city in the United States there is a lot of money passive, dormant, unclaimed, ownerless, to all intents and purposes—dead; that strains pretty badly the credulity of the many who pass most of their days chasing the dollar they never overtake.

LOS ANGELES OPERA
 From time to time in the past Los Angeles has attempted in various ways to establish a permanent local opera company. Though this section of the country has many obvious advantages for carrying out such a venture, till the present year of grace such an opera company has failed to materialize.

Today, however, the time is ripe for the consummation of this great hope that for a long time has occupied the thought and attention of the large company of our local music-lovers. Practical plans are already under consideration to build an opera association here that in time shall stand world-wide alongside the most famous aggregations of any world metropolis.

Headed by Judge Bledsoe, under the patronage of a long list of our most truly representative citizens, with the co-operation of San Francisco's well-known maestro, Gaetano Merola, and a chorus of local voices already in training by Alexander Benvenuti and William Tyroler, the new Los Angeles Opera Association is already away to a good start.

Given sufficient support and an enthusiastic determination to see the enterprise through, grand opera in a few years should be as firmly established in Los Angeles as in New York, Paris or Vienna. The issue depends entirely on the attitude taken by our own citizens.

There are many assets we can take advantage of if our people are firmly united in the oft-repeated desire to make this, section of the Pacific the musical center of the world.

We have here a climate similar to that of the Italian peninsula that has produced not only the finest but also the greatest number of singing voices in the long history of music. We have a population of over 1,000,000, increasing every year, from which to pick stars and chorus singers—or perhaps it were better to say chorus singers today that will be the stars of tomorrow.

We have the help of the Philharmonic Orchestra for our initial performances, a number of trained musicians superior to those of any traveling company. At these first performances, too, planned for next October, the greatest present operatic singers will be heard at prices less than those charged in any other city.

Los Angeles grand opera has at last the auspicious start it has so long been waiting for. Now the public spirit of our people and the unusually large theater-going population of our city ought to assure our own opera company the success that the hard work of the promoters, patrons and friends so richly deserves.

ENCOURAGING CRIMINALS
 Delay in the process of law is the criminal's chief ally. Through delay evidence is spirited away. Men's memory fades. Community interest wanes. The victim and his dependents are lost sight of. Political influence strengthens. Speedy trials of those believed to be guilty of these crimes will do more to discourage criminals and to restore respect for the law than a book full of new and severer penalties which the criminal has good reason to believe he can escape through dilatory tactics. THE SAGE OF CALABASAS
 There are two ways of looking at a bird cage. From the outside it looks like imprisonment. Much sentiment has been used up looking at canaries from this viewpoint. From the inside it may look like protection.

Humans lack the ability to know much of what a caged bird is thinking. But a caged bird, if he takes a few long flights, may perhaps have a short flight about the room and then usually return to the only home he knows. He has to be tempted out again.

Man has taken away his liberty and given him security in exchange. Only modern students have appreciated what a great part plays in all the waking moments of wild life, and the sleeping ones, too. Most canaries do not appear to lament the exchange.

Civilization might be well defined as an exchange by man of liberty and fear for bondage and safety. Civilized man is tied by laws and customs and the opinions of his neighbors, but he has, to an extent, left fear behind. Some sigh at the bargain. But primitive man feared everything. The extent of his fear is beyond comprehension nowadays; and the psychological effect of the few fears that are left is so great that one who knew what he was about would hesitate to exchange his freedom for the security of civilization for primitive conditions.

Shall We Give the Bird Its Freedom?

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

The Measurement of Distance
 The first measurement of distance, in times remote, was furnished simply by the day's journey. As late as the day of the American Indians we find these people measuring a journey in units of "from sunrise to sunset."

Then came the adoption of a part of the body for more definite measurements and we have the stride or pace upon which all future units of measurement are used. We find mention in the Bible of the foot breadth and this was in universal use by the Greeks and Romans, through whom it was handed down to later western civilizations. The "passus" was the pace and the "mille" or "milia passum" (1000 paces) the early mile. Under the Roman Empire the standards of measurement were kept in a Roman temple and considered the standards for the whole civilized world. With the fall of the empire, however, and the rise of smaller principalities these standards became confused and for a long time there was much arbitrary fixing of them according to the ideas of each particular locality. As late as the eighteenth century there were in Italy alone over 200 lengths for the foot!

Subsequent needs, however, of a more complicated industrial system made it plain that facility in national and international intercourse required uniformity of standards, and the last two centuries have witnessed a great advance toward this goal. All the important nations of the world have established uniformity in their respective territories and most of the leading nations have adopted the metric system.

THE SAGE OF CALABASAS
 There are two ways of looking at a bird cage. From the outside it looks like imprisonment. Much sentiment has been used up looking at canaries from this viewpoint. From the inside it may look like protection.

Those who go naked and weaponless into the forests as "primitive man" did, go armed with the knowledge that a thousand generations of civilization has given them. It is not a fair test.

NEAR EAST UPSET AGAIN

BY EUGENE J. YOUNG

In the last fortnight there has been a certain amount of academic discussion of the abolition of the Caliphate by Turkey and talk of what is likely to happen in the Mohammedan world and to French and British interests. In general the situation has been viewed with calm and dispassionate vision. The Near East is not very near to us. We have few Mohammedans. Well enough to look away the main facts as a matter of current history, but of no immediate importance like the oil scandals and the Presidential campaign.

Yet in the upset conditions which have so suddenly come to the Near East and the Mediterranean area we have very direct and important interest. Some of our strong policies are at stake and our future growth in trade is involved. We are likely to be called upon soon to take a stand in defense of those policies and interests; and it is well for us to think what our attitude should be.

Secretary Hughes Wants Action
 Here are a few outstanding facts around which Americans may do a little thinking:

(1) Abolition of the Caliphate by President Kemal and the Turkish Assembly was a direct blow to Britain and France, which had been bringing the influence of their Mohammedan subjects to bear on the head of the faith to the detriment of Kemal's authority. In acting thus Kemal took another step in his curious imitation of the American republic. He seems to wish to open the way for closer co-operation.

(2) The Turkish Commercial Treaty is still in the hands of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate in Washington. No real action has been taken on it. Until that treaty is either ratified or rejected Secretary Hughes will be unable to act with decisiveness in Near Eastern affairs.

(3) Joseph G. Grew, who negotiated the treaty for this country, has suddenly been chosen as Undersecretary of State and will soon be in Washington to help Mr. Hughes fight for ratification of the compact.

(4) This treaty gives formal recognition to the American doctrine of "The Open Door" and "freedom of the seas" as affecting the Turkish straits and the Black Sea. Once it is ratified the Black Sea will be open to all nations and the Black Sea will be a free passage through the Mediterranean. So the renewal of the bitter row over control of that sea is a matter of concern to us.

This dispute is the result of a sudden decision of the British Admiralty to concentrate the battle fleet in the Mediterranean and to hold elaborate maneuvers designed to demonstrate how an attack by any enemy on the British lines of communication with India could be met. Paris and Rome have not been slow to charge that the display of force is designed to intimidate them. Once more they take occasion to resent the idea of the Mediterranean as a "British lake."

The British point out they have merely returned to the policy they pursued until the growth of Germany's fleet forced them to concentrate their main fleet in the North Sea. That is true. But why have they chosen this particular moment to make the move? What danger do they fear? What pressure are they trying to bring to bear? Do they want to demonstrate to France that they can cut off the black African reinforcements which France would need in case of an attack by Germany; or do they fear something else in the Near East?

Danger in the Balkans
 This something else might well be the highly unsettled situation in the Balkans. Greece definitely turning from a monarchy to a republic, Bulgaria fearing a descent upon her by Jugo-Slavia; Rumania, under the influence of the Balkan League, Italy coveting Northern Greece, Jugo-Slavia wanting Salonika and Turkey wanting to seize Thrace—all these are elements which might lead to a dangerous explosion. If trouble started it might well extend to other areas of the Mediterranean.

The smaller nations of the Near East could be held in check if there were unity among the greater powers. But there comes the rub. The British have good reason to believe their home and imperial troubles are encouraging rivals to seek advantages for themselves. The Balkan unrest undoubtedly is due in great part to the unreason of Mussolini. He has made his deal with Jugo-Slavia over Fiume and these two nations have some sort of secret arrangement for mutual benefit. Jugo-Slavia assumes a hostile attitude toward the British. LUNDIN-LEAF greets the guests

By MARY KIRKWOOD

HOLIDAY guests arrive. The LUNDIN-LEAF is spread and immediately sufficient room swings into place. The feast over—a moment—and the table is small again.

There is no temptation to crowd guests from inconvenience of getting fillers—if you have a LUNDIN-LEAF. No time or patience is lost in the old-fashioned hunt for extra leaves. No bad tempers over varnished holes and pegs just out of place. For the LUNDIN-LEAF is hand finished, hand fitted for perfect working. Nothing would be better—more appreciated as a gift, than a LUNDIN-LEAF table and dining room suite.

See if your furniture store is showing LUNDIN-LEAF tables and dining room furniture. If not, send for our booklet showing the range of our beautiful period designs.

Good bakings are becoming a matter of fact in this country. Years ago, the woman who had success on bake day was rare. Now, most anyone can be proud of their bakings—the young bride, the school-girl and all.

Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder, has made all this possible, it is sitting on the pantry shelf in millions of homes, that's the secret of baking success—the real reason for uniform and wholesome food.

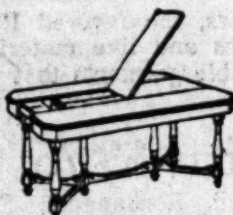

If you are among the few who are not familiar with the results obtained from using Calumet, try it—learn the difference between the results that come from using a perfect leavener and those that are experienced when using unreliable brands.

To follow the directions on the Calumet label is to invite success. You must not use as much as you do of many other kinds. You know Calumet has greater leavening strength than many other brands—it goes farther—makes more bakings—the last spoonful is as good as the first.

EVERY INGREDIENT USED OFFICIALLY APPROVED BY U. S. FOOD AUTHORITIES

Sales 2 1/2 times as much as that of any other brand

LUNDIN-LEAF LIBRARY-OWNER

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the delightful affairs of the week was the dinner party with which Mrs. Martin V. Belger entertained last evening at the Biltmore, taking her guests afterward to see "Lightnin'." Mrs. Belger, who came from Mishawaka, Ind. early in the fall to pass the winter here, has been the honor guest at numerous affairs and also has been hostess at a series of dinner parties and luncheons. Last evening the color scheme was carried out effectively in pink and white blossoms and ferns and covers were arranged for Mrs. Belger, Dr. and Mrs. Rufus B. von Klein-Smidt, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wallace Brown, Mrs. Emma Jack, Mrs. William O. Jenkins, Mrs. Leafe Sloan-Orcutt, Mrs. H. I. Park of Kendallville, Ind., and Mrs. Scott Brown of Chicago. Mrs. Belger also shared honors with Mrs. David H. Skinner of Seattle and Mrs. Henry D. Scully of Pittsburgh at a luncheon given by Mrs. Oliver Hershman at her home in St. Andrews Place yesterday afternoon. Other guests being Mrs. Herbert Black, Mrs. P. E. Seelberger, Mrs. Ralph Meath, Mrs. Russell Heath, Mrs. William M. Hupp, Mrs. Robert Heath, Mrs. Madison J. Keeney, Mrs. John R. James, Mrs. Charles de Zarba, Mrs. Robert E. Wood, Mrs. C. C. Trippe, Mrs. M. Crane, Mrs. David Foster, Mrs. F. Ruhop, Mrs. J. G. Bullock, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. H. A. Mix, Mrs. Harry Hooper, Mrs. Thomas Carey, Mrs. Apperson Corper, Mrs. Glenn Heman, Mrs. M. Hayes, Mrs. Little and Miss Catherine Acer.

Silver Wedding

One of the enjoyable affairs of recent date was the reception with which Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kerstine of West Ninth street entertained the occasion being their silver wedding anniversary. The Woman's Clubhouse where the reception was held was decorated beautifully with a profusion of flowers and foliage, and although the reception was informal, bridge and mah jong were played. Following the games a buffet supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Kerstine have long been identified with Los Angeles and its growth, coming here eighteen years ago from Tennessee. Mr. and Mrs. Kerstine were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. L. De Haan of Los Angeles and Miss Winifred Stern of Washington, D. C.

At Jonathan Club

Mrs. Ada W. Wolf of Stockton was the guest of honor at a luncheon last Wednesday given at the Jonathan Club, the table being adorned with a basket of spring flowers and foliage. The guests included Mrs. Hattie M. Goodrich, Mrs. Mary E. Anderson, Mrs. Lilly Samuels of Oakland, Mrs. Nellie E. Merriam of Long Beach, Mrs. Bettie C. Nickell, Mrs. Maudie Joyce Stack and Mrs. Olive Packard of Long Beach, Mrs. Fanny Wolff of Stockton, Mrs. Anna Broughton, Mrs. Maud Bromfield, Mrs. Ollie Bradley, Mrs. Sybil De Hougne, Mrs. Kathryn Fleming, Mrs. Clara Georgia, Mrs. Francis Hastings, Mrs. Carry Hawkins, Mrs. Hattie Meader, Mrs. Kathryn Selfridge, Mrs. Margaret Needles, Mrs. Nina Squires, Mrs. Lena Thomas, Mrs. Geneva Vaughn and Mrs. Anna Weatherly.

Bon Voyage

Honoring Mrs. Guy Godfrey, who is leaving shortly for an extended trip in the East, Mrs. Harry Nathan entertained with an exquisitely appointed luncheon at the Ambassador Wednesday afternoon, bridge and mah jong being the afternoon's entertainment. The table was adorned with purple and yellow tulips, fragrant fruit blossoms and grasses, and the place cards were indicative of the coming journey. Sharing the honors were Mrs. J. M. Tremaine and her daughter, Miss Gretchen Tremaine and Miss Marionette Hoadley, who are leaving in a few days for a visit to Honolulu. Covers were arranged for twenty guests.

From the North

Mrs. George C. Harwood of San Francisco is visiting in the city and is a guest at the home of Mrs. Preston Smith, 487 Columbia avenue.

Returned Home

Mrs. Ada C. Marriott, who has been visiting in Southern California for several months, left for her home in Mansfield, Ohio Monday evening. Mrs. Marriott was guest of honor at a tea with which Mrs. Carl Wilson Beckman entertained at her home in North Oxford avenue last Friday afternoon.

Tour Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Maxwell and their son, Lynford Maxwell, are planning a trip abroad, sailing from New York about May 1. They will be away for six months or longer.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Coons (Virginia Middleburg) of North Irving Boulevard over the arrival Sunday morning of a son, who will be called John Lewis Coons, Jr. The young man is the great delight of his maternal grandmother, Mrs. S. Alice Mid-

This is the loaf
I bake for you today!

IT'S my special mid-week treat—the finest I can offer you.

Every slice of this perfect bread is filled and flavored with plump and juicy Sun-Maid Raisins. It is rich and fruity—healthful as well as delicious. And so much goodness, so much nourishment at such low cost!

Also "special for Wednesday"

For all those women who have formed a happy little custom of serving Raisin Foods on Wednesday, I also include other tempting Sun-Maid Raisin Foods in my special baking for today.

Rolls, cookies, cakes, coffee cakes, muffins, raisin pies, "snails," and others come to you fresh and fragrant from my oven.

By bakers everywhere

The finest Sun-Maid Raisin Bread and other Raisin Foods are prepared "special for Wednesday" by bakers every week—everywhere.

You can get them at bakeries, grocery stores and delicatessens throughout the city.

Serve them for dinner tonight—for your children's and your own luncheon. And—try Raisin Toast for Thursday's breakfast.

For Bride-Elect

Miss Florence L. Pessell, the charming bride-elect of Howard S. Freeman has been the honor guest at several delightful affairs recently. Miss Pessell has chosen May 15 as the date for her wedding.

Mrs. Delbert Crosby of Alhambra entertained in honor of Miss Pessell Wednesday afternoon at the st. Patrick's day motif being attractively carried out in the decorations, the bright colors of green being combined with spring flowers and tulips. Twenty-four guests were bidden and the bride-elect was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Most of the guests were old friends from Michigan, the home of Miss Pessell's mother, Mrs. A. W. Pessell, and the hostess' mother, Mrs. Bert Cole. Mrs. Cole assisted Mrs. Crosby in receiving.

Mrs. George King entertained for Miss Pessell with a reception at her home in Highland Park and Mrs. Harry Hanson, a sorority sister of the popular bride-elect gave a luncheon in her honor followed by a report from individuals of being members of the Theta Sigma Phi sorority.

From The East

Mrs. Charles Medini-Wood and her attractive daughter, Miss Mona Wood, who have been visiting in New York, Washington and Chicago for six weeks returned home Saturday noon and will again be the center of much social activity.

Visiting Sister

Mrs. Robert D. Hawley and son Robert, Jr. have arrived in Los Angeles and will pass the remainder of the winter visiting with her sister, Miss Marie Cross who is a student at the University of Southern California. Mrs. Hawley, who is a democratic national committee woman of the State of Wyoming, is the daughter of Senator and Mrs. George H. Chase of Douglas, Wyo. Mr. Hawley is one of the leading attorneys of the Middle West.

From Tacoma

Mrs. Harry Higgins of Tacoma, Wash., is visiting in Los Angeles, a guest at the home of Mrs. Harry Sloan, 1278 West Pico street.

Rinsing Silver

A splendid way to brighten the silver with no extra effort is to put it into a colander as you wash it out of hot suds. Then pour boiling water over it and dry while hot with a clean towel. It can be dried very hot with no danger to the fingers, as the scalding water will be all drained off.

Building Construction

IT is a recognized fact that the very appearance and condition of some buildings and houses that are shown today to investors and home-seekers is enough to discourage them from buying. Buildings which have been thrown together with their many costly mistakes in the rush of the past few years are now telling their story. The public is beginning to realize that better construction pays, that it is economy to deal with and pay reasonable architects and contractors for their services, as you would your physician. In the years to follow, skill and experience will be the predominating factor in the construction world. Our ambition is to be among the best in our line.

reduced freight rates

Aside from the economy of shipping via Bekins, you have the assurance that your possessions are in care of the largest organization of its kind in the world. By reason of this, our volume of shipments is tremendous, hence we are able to "pool" shipments of less than carload size to central division points. Thus, reducing the rate, as well as speeding up your shipment by giving you through car service. This does away with unnecessary handling and reduces possibility of damage in transit.

SAID TO ADMIT MANY CRIMES

Man and Wife Narrate Long List, Police Assert

Arrested on Carrying Goods in Auto to Camp

Juvenile Authorities Take Young Daughters

Police announced yesterday they had obtained a confession to nearly thirty burglaries and hold-ups from C. R. Moore, 49 years of age, and his wife, Lillian Moore, 30, who were arrested on suspicion of burglary Sunday night at an automobile camp at 460 San Fernando Road. The confessions were made to Detective Lieutenants Barr, Post and Hoy, the officers reported.

The arrest of the couple, the officers said, was brought about by their actions in transporting automobile loads of merchandise to the automobile camp almost nightly. At the time of the arrest the officers reported they found a machine-load of clothing, kodaks and jewelry.

COUNTERFEITING SUSPECT
After two days in jail Moore and his wife broke down and confessed, the officers said. The officers declared Moore further confessed to having a complete counterfeiting plant for making paper and silver money at the auto camp. When they could not find such a plant Moore is declared to have told the police that his accomplices probably removed the machinery when they learned he and his wife had been arrested.

Moore and his wife, officers say, expressed a willingness yesterday to assist the officers in identifying the stolen property. The couple will accompany the officers to the places robbed and to the places where the loot was disposed of in an effort to restore the property to the owners, it was declared.

PRISON RECORD
Moore is declared to have told the detectives that he served a sentence for burglary in San Quentin and was released in 1915.

Going straight proved hard. Moore is declared to have told the officers. Seven years of the honest life did not encourage Moore, he stated. Out of work and dependent six months ago, Moore told officers he decided to take the easier way.

The couple have two girls, 6 and 8 years of age, respectively. They have been turned over to the juvenile authorities until the case against their parents has been settled.

SALVADOR IS TRADE OUTLET

F. W. Taylor, Former Secretary of Republic, Tells Chamber of Commercial Possibilities

The opportunities for trade between Los Angeles and the Republic of Salvador were explained by Frederic William Taylor in an address yesterday at a luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Foreign Trade Committee.

Mr. Taylor, a Los Angeles man and a member of the chamber's agricultural committee, has been in the Central American republic where he was made Minister of Agriculture and has been straightening out the agricultural problems for the Salvadoran government. He returned here Monday on the steamship Colombia.

Mr. Taylor reports an increasing business in manufactured goods, such as canned foodstuffs, clothing, shoes and machinery, sent to the west coast.

HOT DEBATE IS STARTED ON ALARMS

Councilman Avers That Specifications Restrict Bidding on System

Strong words such as "crook" and "crookedness" in connection with the specifications for the proposed new $1,000,000 fire alarm and police telegraph system were used yesterday during the debate in the City Council over the approval of the specifications.

"I prepared the specifications," said City Electrician Manahan, "and I resent insinuations of crookedness in the preparation of them. I say that they are wide open specifications and call for a 'series' system of alarm boxes to build which any manufacturer can bid."

Councilman Musher, who was secretary of the grand jury which investigated the so-called Gamewell fire alarm scandal in the city government, said: "I never made any suggestion of crookedness in this matter, but I do say that the specifications are not wide open for general competition but restrict the bidding to the manufacturers of 'series' boxes."

Councilman Hallard said: "Let the city build its own boxes. We are going to install them, as it is."

The Council postponed further action until this morning.

Golden Rule is Effective Way to Defeat Foes

"Enemies increase in number and power through the operation of the spirit of strife, and the only way to overcome a foe is to show him that you believe in the Golden Rule."

That is the philosophy voiced yesterday by J. A. Burns, who, in an address before the Advertising Club at the Biltmore Hotel, told the story of how the feuds of Kentucky were finally abolished through a system of education, starting with the organization of the Oneida Institute a quarter of a century ago.

Features of yesterday's luncheon hour were selections by the Woman's Lyric Club Trio, numbers by the Hollywood Harmony House, and a solo by Mario Chamlee, accompanied by Mrs. Chamlee.

A. Carman Smith, president of the club, announced that the speaker at next Tuesday's luncheon will be Rollin Ayres of the Zellerbach Paper Company, who will lecture on "Advertising as an Economic Factor."

SALESMEN TO BE GUESTS
Salesmen in the insurance field will be guests of C. E. Bell, division superintendent of the New York Life Insurance Company, Southern California branch, tonight, at a banquet arranged in their honor at the Rendezvous Cafe.

CHARGE OF MURDER IN CAR DEATH

Whittier Man Accused; Charge Against Another Driver May Be Changed

Setting a precedent, the District Attorney's office yesterday issued a complaint charging H. L. Holdsworth, of Whittier, with murder, as the result of the death in an automobile accident of Juan Velasco on the 13th inst.

At the same time it was announced by the District Attorney's office that an enquiry will be made today to change the charge against Hal J. Conlin from manslaughter to murder. Justice Scott heard arguments on the manslaughter charge yesterday and reserved decision until today.

The complaint against Holdsworth, previously, when a death resulted from an automobile accident, the person said to be to blame was accused of manslaughter. The complaint was issued by Deputy District Attorney Frick and Deputy District Attorney Dennis.

Previously, when a death resulted from an automobile accident, the person said to be to blame was accused of manslaughter. The complaint was issued by Deputy District Attorney Frick and Deputy District Attorney Dennis.

According to information furnished by Detective-Lieut. Rico, Holdsworth passed a standing still car on the morning of the accident. He was driving a Buick sedan, which was reported to have been stolen from the County Jail until he furnishes bail.

Councilmen and Mayor Will Get Two New Sedans

The City Council yesterday voted to buy itself a new eight-cylinder sedan and, also, voted likewise to buy one for the Mayor. Councilmen Musher and Mallard voted "No." The debate was lively.

Previously, when a death resulted from an automobile accident, the person said to be to blame was accused of manslaughter. The complaint was issued by Deputy District Attorney Frick and Deputy District Attorney Dennis.

Councilman Sanborn jumped to his feet and said he needed a new car in keeping with the dignity of his office.

Councilman Mallard started to jump up and say something, when Councilman Sanborn shouted at him, "Can't you keep still?"

NEW TRIAL PLEA FOR NEGRO SLAYER DENIED

PROBATION THEN IS ASKED FOR L. M. JOHNSON IN SHOOTING

Motion for a new trial for Lawrence M. Johnson, negro business man of Central avenue, found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of Harry Harris, 22 years of age, was denied yesterday by Judge Burnell. The convicted man then filed application for probation and passing of judgment and sentence was continued to April 1.

Johnson was accused of first degree murder for the shooting of Harris. At a former trial of the case in Judge Avery's court the jury disagreed after deliberating more than twenty hours. The jury in Judge Burnell's court, however, reached a compromise verdict of manslaughter after debating the evidence for four hours.

The defendant was asserted to have shot Harris at Twentieth street and Central avenue when Harris responded to a call from his brother, Morris, who had previously engaged in street altercation with Johnson.

BEECHER KIN PLEADS

Woman Accused of Forgery to Go on Trial April 25

Beatrice Beecher Johnstone, said to be a descendant of Henry Ward Beecher, yesterday pleaded not guilty when she was arraigned in Judge Avery's court on two counts charging forgery. Her trial was set for April 25.

Miss Johnstone, who, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. Hill, formerly engaged in social work among prisoners in the County Jail, is accused of having forged a fictitious name to two checks drawn on a local bank.

READY TO CONSIDER RAIL PLEA

Council Committee to Meet Commissioners on Espee Plan Tomorrow

Railroad Commissioners Brundage and Seavey will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Pacific Finance Building with members of the City Council's Public Utilities Committee to consider the revived application of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for twenty-one-year franchises to permit the transfer of its freight traffic from Alameda street to the east bank of the Los Angeles River in connection with the proposed joint use of the Arcade depot by passenger trains of the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads.

These franchises were asked for in October and the Board of Public Utilities reported adversely to the Council on them, as did also the Railroad Commission and City Attorney Stephens, on the ground that they would jeopardize the city's long fight against the railroads in support of a new joint union passenger depot at the Plaza. At that time, Attorney W. A. Alderson, representing the Business Men's Co-operative Association, F. W. Blinnard and others who had worked for years for the Plaza union depot project declared that the joint use of the Arcade depot and the applications for franchises were a new move by railroads directed at the Plaza union depot.

The Plaza depot proponents are expected to attend tomorrow's conference. The Council will take no action on the revived applications for franchises until the attitude of the Railroad Commission has been ascertained.

Morris Enters Plea of Guilty; Sent to Prison

Myers M. Morris, charged with complicity in the robbery of the Arcade station of the Los Angeles Pacific on July 12, 1933, pleaded guilty before Judge James yesterday and was sentenced to serve four years in the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

Thomas B. Lyles and Procopio Rico, under indictment with Morris, recently were each given a twenty-five-year prison term, the evidence against them showing they had used guns and threatened lives of postal employees. Rico pleaded guilty. A jury found Lyles guilty, but disagreed as to the guilt of Morris. Arrangements were being made to try Morris again when he changed his plea.

Morris drove an automobile in which the bandits rode to the Arcade station on the morning the robbery was committed. There was no evidence that he was armed.

The bandits obtained about $1600 in loose currency, but overlooked $20,000 in cash which was in a sack.

TO INSPECT ON FOOT

Board Head to Study Needs for Street Car Extension

President Bogardus of the Board of Public Utilities agreed yesterday to inspect personally and on foot next Friday morning the district in the vicinity of the Occidental College and Franklin Avenue High School to ascertain whether there is need for extension of the York Boulevard street-car line from North Avenue Fifty to a junction with the Glendale-avenue line, nearly a mile. President Bogardus agreed to walk this distance and then walk the high school grounds to determine the difficulties the students have in getting to and from school.

INVENTOR TO SPEAK AT LUNCHEON TODAY

The luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which will be held at the Biltmore at noon today will be featured with an address by E. Skinner of Pittsburg, inventor and scientist of international repute. Mr. Skinner is considered one of the prominent orities in the world on the development of electrical industrial machinery and for many years has accomplished valuable research work that has revolutionized the manufacture of electrical equipment.

SURPRISE PROGRAM

A surprise program has been arranged for the Masonic Club of Los Angeles for its luncheon today. A great deal of mystery has surrounded the program, but the management of the club promises that it will eclipse all efforts that have been made this year. The Masonic Club quartet will be the only regular feature to be presented.

FINANCES OF FLIGHT RAILWAY FACE STUDY

On complaint of E. E. Harmon and Milton Bryan, the Board of Public Utilities yesterday started an investigation into the financial condition of the Angel's Flight Railway from the top of the top of Bunker Hill to ascertain whether the railway has enough cash to finance needed improvements. Chief Engineer Lorens reported to the board that loading facilities at the top of the flight are poor and that the buildings and equipment are in need of repair.

Artist is Suing 'Daily News' for Pay for Service

Miss Gene Ross, an artist, yesterday filed suit against the Illustrated Daily News and Cornelia Vanderbilt, Jr., for $1420 she declared was due her for services performed at the instance of the defendants.

According to the complaint, Miss Ross was employed by the defendants as a silhouette artist from July 1, 1933, to September 1, 1933. She asserted that her services in this capacity were worth $1840 and that the defendants had agreed to pay this amount. She further stated that they had failed to pay her anything but $420. The action was prepared by Attorneys Youngworth, McClean and Hartman.

ALVIN LOW TO SPEAK

Alvin H. Low will be the speaker at noon tomorrow before the Proximo Club at 631 South Spring street. Mr. Low's subject will be "Mediations of a Would-be Reformer."

You Be Judge and Jury

Have you ever stopped to consider just what is meant by an irrigation project? The reclamation of arid lands and their irrigation by ponded waters or from natural flows is a big problem. It is a question that is worthy of deep study, of long consideration.

THE SALT RIVER VALLEY OF ARIZONA is the largest and most successful irrigation project. No other project in the North American continent is even comparable to it. It renders bigger, better, more satisfactory service to the farmer and at a varying from 75 to 80 PER CENT LESS THAN ANY OTHER PROJECT IN AMERICA. It is the only project in the world that furnishes water on demand—at any time of the day or night, any day of the year. The cost of this water is the lowest, by at least 60 per cent of any irrigation project now functioning. There are no operating maintenance costs to the farmer—this expense is born by the project itself through the sale of power from five big hydro-electric units.

TOMORROW

Moreover, within a period of three years new hydro-electric units, now building, will make this land dividend earning. That is, proceeds from power sales not only will pay all operation and maintenance costs, in addition to retirement of bonds, interest, etc., but will be earning every acre of land at least $1 per year.

A Word About Silt

There is no silt problem in this valley. Here is another thing you must consider. In some communities, the silt problem costs the owners as much as $3 or $4 per acre each year. There is no charge in the SALT RIVER VALLEY.

We Rest Our Case

THE SALT RIVER VALLEY PROJECT STANDS ON RECORD OF SUCCESSFUL OPERATION. NO OTHER IRRIGATION PROJECT IN AMERICA—OR THE WORLD FOR THE MATTER—CAN COMPETE WITH IT. YOU'LL PAY 60 PER CENT MORE FOR FAR INFERIOR AND LESS CERTAIN SERVICE IN ANY OTHER COMMUNITY.

A Model Project

We would like to cite you figures on the many larger projects, but our space is limited. But you people of Southern California all know L. C. Hill of the engineering firm of Quinton, Code and Hill of Los Angeles. You know him by reputation if not personally. He has made a careful study of the Salt River Valley Project. If you are interested, he will substantiate the facts we have placed before you here. Arthur P. Davis, former director of the United States reclamation service, is another disinterested party who will tell you that the SALT RIVER VALLEY PROJECT IS THE WORLD'S PREMIER IRRIGATION WORKS—THE MASTERPIECE OF IRRIGATION ENGINEERS—THE MODEL AFTER WHICH ALL OTHER PROJECTS PATTERN. All are striving to attain the same degree of success—none has yet approximated it.

Earnings from these lands averaged $105 per acre in 1933. 10,000 acres of these lands now are being offered the people of Southern California at prices varying from $200 to $400 per acre. These are the best land values anywhere. For complete information

What Water Cost

The average cost of water in 300 landholders in this project year was fifty-six (56) cents per acre. The average consumption of water was 2.7 acre feet. The two acre feet of water cost nothing. The third and fourth acre foot cost you at the rate of $1.00 an acre foot. The fifth acre foot costs you $1; the sixth, $1.50 all over six acre feet, $2 per acre foot. (By the acre foot of water is meant enough water to cover an acre of ground to a depth of one foot.) This water is furnished in parcels, just when you need it and in whatever amount you want. Sit down, Mr. Farmer, and find out just how much it would cost you in dollars and cents to get this water when you need it and in the right amount.

MASONIC BAND
HEARD ON KHJ

Commandery Organization in Radio Concert

Winner of State Trophy in Templar Contest

Noon and Matinee Numbers
Delight Listeners

The polished performance given last night at KHJ by the Golden West Commandery Band ably upheld the reputation of Los Angeles as a music center.

Founded in 1910, this exceptional organization is composed entirely of Los Angeles business men who have been drawn together by the magnet of music. It has been the feature of many Knight Templar conclaves and in 1922 was awarded first prize in a State competition of Knight Templar bands. The State trophy was also captured and is still in the possession of this aggregation.

The diversity of their program last night gave further evidence of their talents. And the strains which resounded through the studio re-echoed and re-echoed with requests for encores. A concert duet by J. B. Teasdale and W. H. Travis, members of the band, entitled "Short and Sweet," was sweet enough, but entirely too short. And a Mr. T. V. Short composed it. In response to a general public demand this band will play to the public at the Philharmonic Auditorium on May 19.

DEVEREUX PROGRAM

Through the courtesy of the Southern California Music Company, Mr. N. W. Devereux arranged and presented another delectable program for the benefit of KHJ listeners yesterday afternoon. Realizing the altitude to which the hopes of KHJ fans have been lifted by his previous successes, Mr. Devereux brought to the studio a breath of the Metropolitan Opera-house.

Queens of Piano Royalty Hold Court at KHJ

LUTE ELDREDGE, BARITONE AND AUTHOR COMPARE POWER OF EXPRESSION

the program, displayed the skill that made him director and master of choruses in the famous Metropolitan Opera-house. Miss Margaret Wyman, concert pianist, served some musical dainties.

Francine Venting, concert pianist, injected her personal charms into her offering and the result was bewitching. Her work for the Ampico reproducing piano has won additional commendation. Agnes McCaskey, mezzo soprano, added to her laurels with songs that carried her to the depths of a "Mother's Sorrow" to the heights of "My Love is Like the Red, Red Rose." Signor Salvatore Jack Easton, basso profundo, rang true with his rendition of "The Clang of the Forge."

DELIGHTFUL TRIO

The charm of youth and the magnetism of personality pervaded the studio during the noon program. The three stars were Mario Whitmore, violinist; Katherine Mason, pianist, and Nell Winslow, cellist.

The graceful lines of the "Swan" were drawn by the bow of Nell Winslow. The piano under the nimble fingers of Katherine Mason completed the woodland scene. Miss Whitmore is a pupil of Fometti. Miss Mason a pupil of May McDonald. Hope and Nell Winslow are pupils of Brown.

Mr. Ferris R. Miller of the Better Business Bureau delivered another of his talks on the "Truth in Advertising."

Eunice Edwards, contralto, in her refreshing style, offered "By the Waters of the Minnetonka," with much realism, then played "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," "A Dream," her next number.

SANDMAN AT WORK

The Sandman also brought a verse, entitled "The Blind Child's Vision," which he said had been sent to Fairland by a lady who called herself "a grandmother of all the KHJ lads and ladies."

Uncle John's story, which he said was the story of a lady who would see on their trip to Fairland next week, but changed her mind and decided that she'd better wait and see for herself.

She brought what she called her "Verse of Gratitude," which her Fairy Minstrel had written, and which was addressed to her friends in RadioLand.

McCONLOGUE HERE

Niel McConlogue, said by the police to be a check forger, is under arrest at San Antonio, Tex., according to advices received here yesterday. McConlogue is asserted to have passed forged cashier's checks for a total of $2000 on a bank at Loma and to have defrauded local storekeepers through his operations. Assistant Captain Winn said the suspect will be brought back to Los Angeles unless a more serious charge is placed against him at San Antonio.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
OTTAWA, March 18.—Immigration to Canada for the ten months of the fiscal year, April to February, totaled 129,022, as against 62,849 in the previous period, an increase of 105 per cent. Of the newcomers 45,711 were British, an increase of 120 per cent; 18,129 were Americans, a decrease of 8 per cent, and 46,721 from other countries, an increase of 235 per cent.

Future at Luncheon of Real Estate Board

Los Angeles is fundamentally sound; there is no weakness in the economic foundation of the city, and there is no occasion for pessimism, declared Henry S. McKee, president of Barker Brothers, at the regular bimonthly luncheon of the Los Angeles Realty Board held at the Elite yesterday noon.

Mr. McKee, the chief speaker on the program, laid considerable emphasis on the condition of the realty market, particularly in the subdivision field.

During 1922 and 1923 there were 120,000 lots in new subdivisions offered to the public for sale, he said, and they were all sold. The total estimated sales figure he placed at $250,000,000.

On the assumption that the initial payment on each lot amounted to 25 per cent of the total sales price, the sum of $60,000,000 was invested in lots in that period. More than $60,000,000 is spent annually by the people of Los Angeles for motor cars for pleasure purposes, Mr. McKee said, and considerably more than this sum goes annually into luxuries.

Mr. McKee pointed out that there were few forms of investment open to people of small means, and that many small investors lose their money in unwise speculations. Had they put their funds in real estate, he said, the greatest loss they could have taken would have been a quarter, or at the most a third, of the amount invested. Mr. McKee said that for thirty years he had seen Los Angeles investors buying real estate, and that he had yet to meet one who had any serious misgivings about this class of investment.

Other speakers included Capt. Richmond P. Hobson of the International Narcotic Educational Association, who told of the work which his organization is doing, and Mason Case, chairman of the High Links committee of the Realty Board. Mr. Case outlined plans for the annual links, which is to be held at Del Monte May 23, 24 and 25. W. L. Brent, president of the board, presided.

THE DE MILLENIUM

'ROLES' HAS FINE CAST, POLA NEGRI TO PLAY

By Grace Kingsley

There's a new phrase going around the Lasky studio. It is "Ceil B. De Millennium." It refers to the good luck of those players who make good in a Ceil B. De Millie picture, and the fact that they all seem to move right on up in the film world.

It does seem indeed as though the very best luck a picture player can have is to make good with De Millie. At any rate, all his recent players who have succeeded are now landing in excellent roles.

Take "Roles," for instance, which is to be directed by Frank Urson and Paul Irlbe. Lasky Joy, who recently triumphed in "Triumph," and before that in "The Ten Commandments," and "Manslaughter," two De Millie features, is to head the featured cast. Victor Varnell and Zasu Pitts, likewise former De Millie players, are to have important roles. Both outdid themselves, it is said, in "Triumph." Frank Urson was De Millie's assistant on "Triumph," and Irlbe was art director on that picture.

In short, Mr. De Millie is loaning his Lasky family to another picture, while he himself takes a rest and prepares for a new feature. Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin, too, who wrote "Roles," formerly worked with Mr. De Millie.

An announcement of importance concerning the remainder of the cast was also made yesterday. No less clever a player than Raymond Griffith has a big role opposite Miss Joy, and Helen Dunbar likewise is to appear in an important part.

As for Mr. De Millie's next picture, which is to be a screen version of "Feet of Clay," by Margaret Tuttle, it was announced yesterday that Beulah Marie Dix will adapt the story. In the meantime, Jeannie Macpherson, Mr. De Millie's special scenario writer, will be at work on the production to follow, "Feet of Clay," while the latter story is being filmed.

Pola Negri, having completed her latest picture, is to go on vacation for three weeks. She will make a trip to Mexico City, leaving in a week's time.

"I have never been in Mexico," explained Miss Negri yesterday, "and I think it must be a very picturesque and interesting place. It will be a nice place to rest, and then, she laughed, "no body can interview me as to whom I'm supposed to be going to marry!"

Roberts Soon

Theodore Roberts, who has been very ill in the East during the past several weeks, following a vaudeville tour, is to return home to Hollywood tomorrow, according to word received yesterday. The actor, who has been with pneumonia many weeks ago, back in Pittsburgh and his life was for a time despaired of. His wife went east and has been constantly at his bedside.

Cullen Landis Signs

Cullen Landis and his business representative, J. Edwin New, leave today for New York, the young actor to be featured in a Nighthawk production for Vitaphone, which William Nigh, responsible among other pictures for "Why Girls Leave Home," will direct. Landis' work will commence immediately upon his arrival and, according to the contract signed by wire, is an engagement with a four weeks guarantee and a highly flattering offer. Negotiations for this role were no sooner completed, when he had another contract offered him as lead in a production in Hollywood now being cast.

Richard Barthelmess sailed last Saturday from New York for the Arcadian for Bermuda, according to telegraphic word just received. He has gone down there to rest. Mary Hay, his wife, star of "Mary Jane Melane," musical comedy now playing in New York, was at the pier to see her husband depart, but did not accompany him.

The star said he was much annoyed by a story printed recently that he was to leave the Inspiration Pictures because of professional jealousy over the success of "Lilies of the Field."

"Nonsense," said Barthelmess. "The fact is, it was through me that Miss Gish signed with the Inspiration Pictures, and nothing has developed in a professional way that could be the basis for such a false and damaging story."

Mr. Barthelmess said that his personal attorney, Dennis O'Brien, probably would have a statement to make on the matter next week.

Lou Tellegen Flashes

Lou Tellegen, who once had the honor to be the husband of Geraldine Farrar, and who has just finished the Vitaphone picture, "Benjamin Franklin," is going on a fishing trip to Catalina. While Mr. Tellegen has spent a great deal of time in Southern California he has made the trip to the celebrated island of glass-bottomed boats and chewing gum.

Comedian Works

Harold Lloyd is returning to work after an eight weeks' vacation during which he visited New York and has also perfected himself in the game of handball. He has, in fact, built two handball courts at the studio.

The new comedy is one of the first year's marital sort. Jobyna Ralston will continue as his leading lady.

Now It Is Done

Douglas MacLean may make his next picture in England. After staunchly espousing the cause of America in "The Yankee Consul" and "Going up the young comedian admitted yesterday that he had received a tempting offer from British producers to do a screen adaptation of Brandon Thomas' farce, "Charley's Aunt," and that there is a possibility that he may accept the offer.

"Charley's Aunt" is the most successful English farce ever written. It has played in the British Isles for more than thirty consecutive years and has also enjoyed tremendous popularity on this side of the water. Harry Rowson, foremost British producer, paid $100,000 for the screen rights to this piece and has his heart set on Mr. MacLean as the comedian best qualified to play it.

Mr. MacLean is popular in England, so popular, in fact, that

Quartet Heard in Program of Much Interest

The Zoellner Quartet was heard Monday night in concert in the artistic music room of the Biltmore Hotel. Quartets by Haydn and Mihaud, and a miscellaneous group of numbers were performed.

Of outstanding interest was the playing of the modern (1913) quartet in 2 by Darius Mihaud. Not only are numbers of this type interesting to the connoisseur of music, but their very performance is significant and enlightens the discriminating musical public to hear them. In fact, such a series of concerts as those offered by this world-traveling organization places Los Angeles as a home of artistic patronage.

The quartet mentioned represents one of those numbers which must be heard to be understood, and even a hearing does not guarantee that one will know what it is all about. As with many modern numbers, there is a constant evasion of the definite; the melodies elude all laws of tonal magnetism and sometimes in their dissonant phrases irritate a sort of bitter-sweet war. The number shows the composer to be a student of counterpoint perhaps rather than of harmony, not, however, in its inharmoniousness this element was entirely lacking. The Grave, sostenuto movement was soothing, and yet almost whining. The Rhythmique, (first) movement drew a more finely limned outline.

The quartet in C. No. 4, by Haydn was played first, and with a customary polished ensemble which have made the Zoellners famous. Their phrasing is exquisite throughout, although here and there was a slight hint of playing off key, a fault which in years past has not at all been a habit with the Zoellners.

Other numbers were "Ein Traum" (Haydn); Canzonetta (Mendelssohn) and "Chœur dansé Russe" (Rimsky-Korsakov).

'WHITE COLLARS'

IS FULL OF FUN

Any play so full of fun as Edith Ellis' comedy, "White Collars," which is about to enter its ninth week at the Egan Theater, any play that will make the tired housewife, to say nothing of the student, man laugh long and loud, is worth while.

There is humor in almost every line. It is all about a rich young man who falls in love with a beautiful, but positionless girl. Her family, like so many families, have sacrificed and scrimped to give her an education, but when the inevitable question of pride looms as a serious rift in the matrimonial clouds, the young man, through a clever ruse, brings his newly acquired kin in to insure the financial uplift of the play ends in a most acceptable manner.

The cast includes Earle Foxe, Ruth Lee, Robert Ober, Mabel Forest, George Sherwood, Blanche Douglas, Zillah Covington, Isabel Foye and Paul Kruger.

LARGE CASTLE SET IN 'BEAU BRUMMEL'

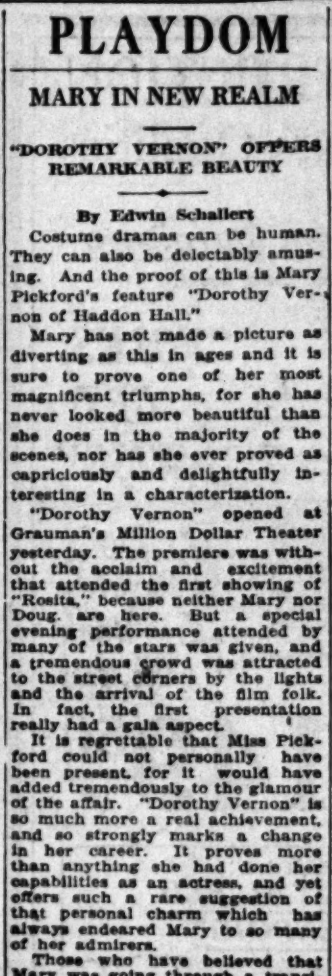

A castle set for the filming of "Beau Brummel," John Barrymore's latest starring vehicle, which is now playing at the California Theater, is the largest that has ever been built inside a studio. The set required over 10,000 amperes of current to provide proper illumination.

In the supporting cast of "Beau Brummel" are such well-known screen players as Carmel Myers as the beautiful vampire; Mary Astor, sweetheart of the beautiful, and Rich as the Duchess of York; Alec B. Francis as the faithful valet to Brummel; and Willard Louis in the role of the foppish Prince of Wales.

COMEDIENNE WILL MAKE DEBUT HERE

Gertrude O'Connor, eccentric comedienne and dancer, who has played in a great number of eastern musicals, has been engaged as one of the principals of "The Smiles of 1934," the DeLoRack-Bostick presentation coming to the Philharmonic Auditorium this week of April 7.

Miss O'Connor recently finished an engagement in "Up in the Clouds," and prior to that was one of the principals in "I'll Say She Is."

Appearing in a burlesque act, "All Right, Mady," at the Orpheum this week with Frank Wood.

MARY IN NEW REALM

'DOROTHY VERNON' OFFERS REMARKABLE BEAUTY

By Edwin Schallert

Costume dramas can be human. They can also be delectably amusing. And the proof of this is Mary Pickford's feature "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall."

Mary has not made a picture as diverting as this in ages and it is sure to prove one of her most magnificent triumphs, for she has never looked more beautiful than she does in the majority of the scenes, nor has she ever proved as capriciously and delightfully interesting in a characterization.

"Dorothy Vernon" opened at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater yesterday. The premiere was without the acclaim and excitement that attended the first showing of "Roxie," because neither Mary nor Doug are here. But a special evening performance attended by many of the stars was given, and a tremendous crowd was attracted to the street corners by the lights and the arrival of the film folk. In fact, the first presentation really had a gala aspect.

It is regrettable that Miss Pickford could not personally have been present, for it would have added tremendously to the glamour of the affair. "Dorothy Vernon" is so much more a real achievement, and so strongly marks a change in her career. It proves more than anything she has done her capabilities as an actress, and yet offers such a rare suggestion of that personal charm which has always endeared her to so many of her admirers.

Those who have believed that Mary was going through a transition during "Roxie" have been really fulfilled her new destiny in the picture that followed. "Dorothy Vernon" is a picture that was what would have been a perfect harmony with the surroundings. She does not have to sing and dance to any alien Spanish rhythms, but instead is just a radiant, captivating, and most feminine young lady of a historic period that was famous for its gayety and its absorbing intrigue.

Charles Major's novel, from which the picture is adapted, is familiar to many people, but nobody will have to bother reading it anew to see whether the text has been adhered to strictly. Marshall Neilan has taken liberties with the situations at least, where these could add to the quality of the humor. The picture has probably the most enjoyable sequence of developments that has been screened in any costume film this season, and every bit of it is filled with life and color and an amazing photographic attractiveness, for which no doubt Charles Koehler is to be credited.

Seldom indeed have I seen anything more enchanting than the portrait of Mary. Mary is more alluring than she has ever been. Her eyes at times when you view her you are actually seeing Galena-borough coming to life.

And that is not all. Each member of the cast is caught in some extremely attractive pose. The first glimpse of Queen Elizabeth for instance is unforgettable. There are one or two views of Mary as Queen of Scots that are lovely. And some of the impressions of the countryside, especially those secured on the less familiar locations are of Court-like quality.

Mary Pickford and Anders Randolph have the best scenes together, and Randolph proves himself to be a tremendously good actor in the role of the irascible Sir George Vernon. Mary matches his temper in her role with one of her own, and the fire flies whenever they appear in a scene together.

Claire Eames has looked and acted the part of Queen Elizabeth in such a way that she will remain a memorable screen figure. Allan Forrest deserves high praise indeed for his romantic bearing.

Marc McDermott is very capable in the acting of the villainous part of Sir Malcolm and his brilliant clouding of the scene gives a memorable screen figure. Allan Forrest deserves high praise indeed for his romantic bearing.

Crude though it was, it started the paper-board industry in the West, to which The Paraffine Companies, Inc., have made so many other valuable contributions.

Pupils at Claremont Show

Dramatizing the Constitution by presenting the scenes connected with its adoption in the form of a series of tableaux, with pupils acting the parts of the most prominent attendants at the Constitutional Convention, was the unique method chosen by the principal of the high school at Claremont, Amos K. Peterson, to create interest in Constitutional study.

In a letter to Prof. A. F. Blanka, director for The Times of the National Constitutional Oratorical Contest, which is being sponsored by that paper in the Pacific Southwest, Mr. Peterson states that pupils in his school especially are interested in this contest, and it occurred to him that a dramatic presentation would serve admirably to fix in their minds certain leading historic facts pertaining to the basic law of the land and also would give them a clearer conception of the stirring drama of events leading up to its adoption.

A photograph of the tableau shows the pupils impersonating historic characters, arrayed in costumes of the Revolutionary period, seated about a table discussing the Constitutional provisions. The costumes, wigs and flags, Mr. Peterson writes, are largely the work of the pupils themselves, nothing having been borrowed or rented for the occasion.

The principal states that his pupils found this method of acquainting themselves with the Constitution intensely interesting, and undertook the work with preparation for the presentation with enthusiasm. He adds that the interest of pupils in the oratorical contest is shared in a large part by citizens of Claremont, including the Claremont Courier, which paper has given the event much publicity.

TWO-DECK BUS TRIED OUT HERE

One-Week Test Planned to Find if Fleet Shall be Put in Operation

A test trip of a new two-deck double bus built for the Los Angeles Motorbus Company was conducted yesterday by officials of the Los Angeles and Pacific Electric railways. The bus was driven over the route of the Vermont avenue and Sunset Boulevard line on which it is expected to be in operation.

The new bus has a six-cylinder, 110 horsepower engine and accelerates to thirty-seven miles per hour with its full load of fifty passengers. It is said to be the first double-deck bus using pneumatic tires on all wheels.

The bus is twenty-eight feet long and weighs 13,000 pounds. The entrance step is only five inches above the ground. A front exit is provided beside the driver's seat in addition to the entrance and exit space at the rear.

A one-week test in passenger service will be given the bus and if it proves satisfactory mechanically and is approved by passengers, a fleet of this type will be ordered, according to D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric, and G. J. Kuhrt, general manager of the Los Angeles Railway, who are the managing directors of the joint bus company.

RESORT OF WOBBLES CLOSED UP

Rendezvous at Harbor is Cleared of Habitues by Police Raiders

As one of the steps in the campaign to clear Los Angeles Harbor of I.W.W. agitators before the threatened May Day demonstration set for May 1, members of the Wobblies squad at the harbor yesterday closed a poolroom at Fourth and Beacon streets, declared to have been a rendezvous for radicals. Abatement proceedings have been instituted by the police and every effort will be exerted to keep the place closed, it was declared.

Thrown out of a place to congregate, scores of men declared to be known as Wobblies or sympathizers, gathered across the street and voiced their protests against the action by the police. They are declared to have dispersed when the police threatened to arrest the entire crowd.

Members of the radical squad at the Harbor Police Station yesterday declared that the raid on I.W.W. headquarters Monday night and the poolroom raid yesterday are a sample of what will happen to the Wobblies if they grow bold in face of the determination to run them out of the harbor district. The police declared no measures will be too severe to clear the harbor of radical demonstration.

BRIDGE REPAIR PLAN VETOED BY COUNCIL

The City Council yesterday, upon recommendation of its Finance Committee, decided against making temporary repairs at an expense of $6000 on the Avenue 26 bridge which collapsed recently, on the ground that the bridge may soon be permanently rebuilt and that temporary repairs would be a waste of money.

Balancing the Books

LET US examine the balance sheet that compares the "benefits" of unregulated political monopoly in public utilities with the conditions that prevail under corporate operation and Railroad Commission regulation.

YET, in the face of this showing, the Board of Public Service Commissioners, which manages the Water Bureau, is striving by force to take the electric system of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation from its present management under Railroad Commission regulation and use it to build up under the management of the Public Service Commissioners an unregulated political monopoly in electric service.

THE ACCOUNT WITH COMPETITION

Nothing

THE Board of Public Service Commissioners is trying to kill competition in electric service by forcibly absorbing its only remaining competitor, the electric system of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

THE ACCOUNT WITH TAXATION

For the Fiscal Year 1923

The municipally-owned water system, which itself pays no taxes, took from the tax levy for Bond purposes

the electric system of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation is a "tax that stands on its own bottom."

THE Board of Public Service Commissioners and their political backers are making every effort to force the electric system of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation out of the tax-paying column and into the list of enterprises which are financed by bond issues, which are in turn guaranteed by a mortgage on the homes and property of Los Angeles and by the tax-collector.

AUTOISTS IN PLUNGE ESCAPE WITH LIVES

BRUISES RESULT FROM CRASH
OF SAUGUS

Two motorists narrowly escaped death early yesterday morning when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on a sharp turn of the Ridge Route about ten miles north of Saugus and leaped over a seventy-five-foot embankment, turning over five times before it finally crashed to a stop in a heavy growth of brush.

Roland Gross of 1801 East Eighth street, Long Beach, who was driving, and Bert Stafford, 52 years of age, of 1910 Atlantic avenue, Long Beach, who was sitting in the front seat with Mr. Gross, were only cut and bruised. After clambering out of the brush where they had been thrown when the car took its first leap from the road, they obtained a lift from a passing motorist and reached the Receiving Hospital where they were given emergency treatment.

WILL CONTEST FILED

The will of Mary MacBean, disposing of a $40,000 estate, is contested in a suit filed yesterday by her niece, Mrs. Agnes Cumming, of Galt, Ontario, who declares she was beneficiary to the extent of $30,000 by a former will. The will she contests, she says, was made under undue influence of John Frederick MacGregor, stepson of the decedent with whom she lived in Los Angeles. By the contested will MacGregor's three sons would receive all but $8000 of the estate.

OFFICERS OF POWER BODY ARE CHOSEN

W. T. Bishop is Named to Head Mayor's Executive Committee

W. T. Bishop, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, was yesterday afternoon elected chairman of the executive committee of the Mayor's Power and Water Committee at a meeting held in the Council chamber at the City Hall. C. J. Golden, president of the Board of Harbor Commissioners was elected vice-chairman; O.
M. Souden was chosen treasurer, and Bernard Goss was selected secretary. A. J. Barnes was elected secretary of the general committee.

A representative of the Public Service Department said that 8000 employees of the department would work with the Mayor's committee to secure the approval by the voters of the power and water bond issues at the May 5 election.

There were twenty-nine members of the executive committee present at yesterday's meeting, including Kent K. Parrott, Mayor Cryer's political adviser.

Mayor Cryer called the meeting to order as chairman of the general committee. There was talk by some of the speakers about the Boulder Dam-Colorado River project, but Chairman Bishop corrected this by stating that the Boulder Dam project was not involved in the forthcoming bond issues except for a few thousand dollars of the water bond issue to be used to defray the expense of Chief Engineer Mulholland's surveying parties on the Colorado River.

Violators of Dry Law Are Held Disloyal

Loyalty to the government means obedience to all its laws even though some of those laws may conflict with the opinions of the individual, Charles L. Estey of Chicago told an audience composed of members of the Sons of the Revolution Society at a luncheon in the Alexandria yesterday.
Violators of the dry law, he declared, were not loyal since they place their own opinions and desires before those of the majority.

The oratorical contest sponsored by The Times in order to foster a greater understanding and appreciation of the Constitution among the people was highly praised by the speaker.

Various other speakers alluded to the fact that $50,000 had been pledged by an anonymous member toward the construction of a building to house the society. George F. Pomeroy of Toledo spoke of the movement for a merger of the Sons of the Revolution with the Sons of the American Revolution, declaring that two-thirds of the members in both societies desired amalgamation.

Utilities Board Abrogates Long List of Rules

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday figuratively threw out of the window thirty-two rules for the procedure of the board's business, put through the board one year ago by Commissioner Kennedy and substituted a new simple set of rules, just six in number and brief at that.

Commissioner Kennedy yesterday voted "no" on repealing the old rules and substituting the new ones. Under the old rules, the board was divided into committees; under the new ones, the president of the board, who is now Commissioner E. F. Bogardus, is made chief executive officer of the commission, and there are no committees.

TAXICAB PASSENGERS GET DRIVER'S WEALTH

PAIR RIDE FOR HOURS, THEN STOP CAR, TAKING RING,
WATCH AND CASH

Two passengers shortly before dawn yesterday compelled H. P.
Ryan, taxi driver for the Yellow Cab Company, to stop his car near Santa Monica Boulevard and Western avenue and there robbed him of a $700 diamond ring, a gold watch, and $43 in cash, according to his report to the police. The robbers entered the taxi in the downtown section.

Ryan told the police that his pass had been riding about town for several hours before they finally ordered him to stop. Immediately after they had robbed him, he stated, they walked a short distance away and climbed into a large automobile driven by a man whom he could not see because of the darkness.

ORDERS FENCE REMOVAL
The park department was yesterday instructed to remove the "chicken wire" fence now built around Pershing Square. The Council refused to appropriate funds for a permanent iron pipe fence and said that they desired the park open and uninclosed so that it could be used by the public.

AVOIDS HIGH TAX

Local Man Saves $174,412.50 Under Alternate Provision

Among the income returns filed during the last few weeks with the collector of internal revenue is one showing that the enactment of the 12 1/2 per cent provision of the 1921 Revenue Act, relative to the sale of property, enabled a Los Angeles man to save $174,412.50 on his income-tax bill. The saving grew out of the fact that the law permits taxpayers, in reporting on the sale of property held two years or more, to pay the regular normal and surtax rates or a flat rate of 12 1/2 per cent.

It is reported the taxpayer is questioned made a profit of $447,500 on the sale of the property. Under the regular normal and surtax rates he would have paid a tax of $282,850, while under the 12 1/2 per cent provision of the law he was taxed only $108,337.50, making a net saving of $174,412.50.

ZONE RIGHTS AT

ISSUE IN COURT

Legality of City Ordinance is Involved

Permit to Build Ice House is Demanded

Bimini Gully Structure in Question

With the question at issue of whether a city has a legal right to establish residential and industrial zones within its limits, half a dozen attorneys gathered in Judge J. A. Smith's court yesterday to examine witnesses in a three-cornered fight resulting from a proposal to build an ice house in Bimini Gully near Bimini Bath.

Bimini Gully Structure in

The legal controversy was precipitated when F. A. Magnolia brought suit for a writ of mandamus to compel the Board of Public Works to issue him a permit to build the structure. Magnolia set forth in his petition that at the time he purchased the property in question it was in zone "D," an industrial zone, by virtue of an ordinance adopted by the City Council January 8, last.

PERMIT REFUSED

When Magnolia applied for a building permit February 15, last, the Board of Public Works refused to issue it, on the ground that the ordinance which created the zone was not valid.

The sole reason given for this refusal was that the Council had under consideration a resolution to place the property in zone "B," making it a residential district.

The defendants answered that the January ordinance had been repealed and that since then an ordinance had been passed repealing the property to residential purposes.

Residents and landowners of the district, including the Westlake School for Girls, were also represented in court yesterday. Through a complaint in intervention, they sought to have the property placed in zone "B," which would constitute a nuisance and menace to the health and happiness of the community.

In making that the writ be denied, they argued that the property is not in zone "B" and that the ordinance which created the zone is not valid.

Smith is expected to make a decision either late today or tomorrow morning.

RECEIVER IS NAMED FOR

FILM PLANT

Court's Order Conforms With Similar Action in New Jersey

Federal Judge Bledsoe yesterday appointed Howard S. Clewett of Los Angeles receiver of Prisma, Inc., a motion-picture concern, with plants in Hollywood and Jersey City.

The appointment was made on the petition of William V. D. Kelley of Jersey City, a creditor. Judge Bledsoe's order is in conformity with an order of the United States District Court of New Jersey where recently Charles K. D. Walsh of New York and Albert I. Drayton of Jersey City, were appointed receivers of Prisma, Inc., on a petition filed by Kelley.

The respondent, who is the owner of the plants, is the owner of the plants in Hollywood and Jersey City. He is the owner of the plants in Hollywood and Jersey City.

Kelley avers in his petition that Prisma, Inc., is the owner of the plants in Hollywood and Jersey City. He is the owner of the plants in Hollywood and Jersey City.

The petitioner's claims, as a creditor, are for $484,718. Prisma, Inc., he avers, was incorporated in September, 1918, with a capitalization of $250,000 in first preferred stock, $175,000 in second preferred stock, and $50,000 shares of common stock of no par value.

The corporation owns patents and processes for colored motion pictures. Its gross business in 1933 was $150,000, he avers, and thereafter was $10,000 a month up to the appointment of the receivers in Jersey City.

The Prisma laboratory at 5555 Santa Monica Boulevard was closed last July as a result of a shortage in capital and the company is in the industry, the petitioner avers. He does not charge the corporation is insolvent.

NEGRO "LIBERATOR" IN JAIL

Rev. J. E. Lewis, Builder of "Ark" is Arrested on Suspicion of Attacking Little Girl

Rev. J. E. Lewis, 54 years of age, negro preacher-leader of the movement to colonize Liberia with American negroes and builder of the ill-fated "Ark of the Living God" that sank at Los Angeles as it was launched for a trip to Liberia, was taken into custody by Los Angeles Harbor police yesterday and lodged in jail on a charge of suspicion of attacking Beatrice Ward, 13 years of age.

The suspect was taken before the victim late yesterday. She immediately became hysterical and was unable to make an identification, it was said.

Shortly after Lewis was booked on the charge in connection with the attack case, he was charged with violation of the Wright Act. The police asserted at the time of his arrest that they found him in possession of a small amount of wine and whiskey.

BRUTALLY BEATEN
The attack upon the little white girl occurred January 31, last, near Sixth and Front streets, Los Angeles Harbor. She was brutally beaten and received injuries from which she had never entirely recovered, the police said.

Following the attack more than 200 police officers were sent to the harbor and other cities in this section conducted one of the most spectacular man-hunts in the history of the city.

Score of suspects were taken but all were eventually released.

The arrest of Lewis, according to the police, was after a long investigation and upon the information of a reliable source.

Lewis, since the sinking of the so-called ark, has figured in the public eye by reason of his activities on behalf of the "back to Liberia" movement. Recent dispatches from San Francisco reported that he had started negotiations for the purchase of six freighters for use in transporting negroes to Liberia. He is also declared to have announced that he had received large subscriptions from American negroes to finance his project.

Lewis' arrest on the Wright Act charge followed a raid on his headquarters known as the "Church of the Living God" yesterday at First Street and Jones Court, Los Angeles Harbor, with the resulting seizure of a number of bottles of bootleg liquor and wine, according to the police.

Police declared the raid was occasioned by reports that Lewis was conducting a bootleg business at the church. The liquor was declared to have been uncovered in a place. Lewis will be subjected to a questioning today by Detective Farrell, who is in charge of the case.

ASSERTS INNOCENCE
Lewis, after his arrest, maintained his innocence, and declared he is not the man whom the last driver drove from a point near where the girl was found in an unconscious condition.

He is also declared to have announced that he had received large subscriptions from American negroes to finance his project.

Lewis' arrest on the Wright Act charge followed a raid on his headquarters known as the "Church of the Living God" yesterday at First Street and Jones Court, Los Angeles Harbor, with the resulting seizure of a number of bottles of bootleg liquor and wine, according to the police.

Police declared the raid was occasioned by reports that Lewis was conducting a bootleg business at the church. The liquor was declared to have been uncovered in a place. Lewis will be subjected to a questioning today by Detective Farrell, who is in charge of the case.

ASSERTS INNOCENCE
Lewis, after his arrest, maintained his innocence, and declared he is not the man whom the last driver drove from a point near where the girl was found in an unconscious condition.

Lewis, since the sinking of the so-called ark, has figured in the public eye by reason of his activities on behalf of the "back to Liberia" movement. Recent dispatches from San Francisco reported that he had started negotiations for the purchase of six freighters for use in transporting negroes to Liberia. He is also declared to have announced that he had received large subscriptions from American negroes to finance his project.

EDITOR HEARD BY GRAND JURY

J. J. Parks Gives Testimony in Dolley Quiz

Tells of Bulletin Stories of Irregularities

Internal Revenue Unit Chief Also Investigates

J. J. Parks, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, Walter Crowley, an executive, and Dean Mason, a reporter on the same paper, appeared before the Federal grand jury yesterday in response to telegraphic subpoenas. They testified concerning charges of irregularities in the Los Angeles office of the Federal dry force during the time Harold H. Dolley was in charge, according to U. S. Atty. Burke, who is conducting an investigation of the charges.

The grand jury convened in special session yesterday to continue the investigation which was begun at the regular Friday session of the jury two weeks ago. It will continue in session from day to day until the evidence has all been submitted, Burke said.

OTHERS TESTIFY

A. S. Otfedahl, chief of the western section of the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau and assistants also are investigating the affairs of Dolley.

The grand jury also is investigating the affairs of Dolley, who was in charge of the Los Angeles office of the Internal Revenue Bureau during the time Dolley was in charge.

Others who appeared before the jury were Earl Miller, former dry agent, who is said to be practicing law now in Los Angeles, and Fred Lloyd of Los Angeles, former agent, who was dismissed from the prohibition service by Dolley. Miller resigned from the dry force that worked under the direction of Dolley.

STORIES PUBLISHED

Both witnesses were subpoenaed two weeks ago at the same time as Patrick J. Conney, Los Angeles attorney; Frank S. Lanham, Los Angeles fireman; S. F. Rutter, prohibition director at California; D. J. O'Leary, agent in charge of Southern California; George Cole, Louis Remerick and L. P. Tyson, agents in the Los Angeles office, were subpoenaed.

Charges that Dolley obtained evidence against bootleggers by tapping telephone wires while he was in charge of the Los Angeles office, and that he misappropriated funds of the office and otherwise conducted the affairs of the office in an irregular manner, formed the basis of the grand jury investigation. Details of the asserted irregularities together with stories of a breach between Dolley and Rutter have been published in the San Francisco Bulletin. Information around which these stories have been written is reported to have emanated from former dry agents who have been subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury, and from Francis C. Neal, former dry agent, who will be tried April 8 with nine others on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Elinor Glyn is Here to Handle New Film Play

Elinor Glyn, whose novels "Three Weeks," and "Seven Days," have been produced as motion pictures in Los Angeles, arrived here yesterday afternoon after an absence of nearly a year to supervise the production of another of her novels "This Hour." Madame Glyn was accompanied by her daughter.

The author will supervise the love scenes, she said yesterday. Louis B. Mayer produced the picture. The author and her daughter will be filmed, and the author and her daughter will be filmed, and the author and her daughter will be filmed.

Ocean Park to Have New Pier in Short Time

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent SANTA MONICA, March 18.—Reconstruction of the fire-ravaged pleasure area of Ocean Park is expected to be started quickly, following the action of the Santa Monica City Commissioners today in awarding the franchise to the Ocean Park pier to the Venice Amusement Company. The company, it is understood, is a subsidiary of the West Coast Theaters Corporation and is closely affiliated with the G. M. Jones and Earl Fraser interests.

It is understood the company's bid for the franchise was $1000. The bid was submitted to the Commissioners by Herbert J. Goudge, attorney representing the Venice company.

Sees Coolidge Made Stronger by Oil Scandal

A belief that the political confusion that now exists as a result of the numerous investigations going on in the different departments of the government will, in the end, have an effect in strengthening the position of President Coolidge was expressed here yesterday in an interview by Paul D. Cranath, prominent New York attorney and chief counsel of the Mammoth Oil Company, the principal concern interested in the Teapot Dome oil field.

Mr. Cranath, who is at the Biltmore, stated that he came to California on a holiday after a visit in Cheyenne where he made a brief investigation of the Teapot Dome situation.

LANZIT TRIAL TO SEE FIGHT

Battle of Alienists Forecast as Prosecutors Arm to Break Down Insanity Defense

The forthcoming trial of Joseph J. Lanzit, who was caught by deputy sheriffs last week while attempting to blow up his wife and two of her relatives to obtain their fortune, according to the story told by his captors, probably will be a battle of alienists, according to indications at the District Attorney's office yesterday.

Lanzit's attorneys are now preparing an insanity defense. Through his counsel he has indicated that his plot against his three intended victims was the product of derangement of mind and since his confinement in the County Jail on a charge of attempted murder he has been recruiting a battery of alienists to examine his mental condition and strengthen his insanity defense on the witness stand.

Chief Criminal Deputy District Attorney Fricke and Dep. Dist. Atty. By are giving themselves for the battle of alienists. Mr. Fricke is a veteran prosecutor of many murder cases in which insanity had been set up as the defense. He is now in the charge of the case against Lanzit. When Lanzit appears for trial he will find in the courtroom a group of well-known alienists ready to combat the testimony of Lanzit's alienists.

It is a crazy like a fox," Dep. Dist. Atty. Fricke has stated regarding Lanzit, and in an effort to prove that the case man's dynamite plot was not the invention of a deranged mind, and to prove that Lanzit was mentally normal during the two weeks devoted to his scheme the prosecutor is at present laying a foundation by which he will attempt to show that Lanzit on other occasions coolly and deliberately has attempted to end his wife's life by other means.

Police were used in one of these attempts, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. By. This poison—two packages of blue powder—was placed in the custody of the District Attorney yesterday by Mrs. Lanzit, who stated that she had taken one of the packages from her husband's coat pocket. The other package was found in Lanzit's possession by Deputy Sheriff.

Tracing powders, the Yorkshires powder expert, whom Lanzit had hired as accomplice in his plot, was touring the beach pharmacies with Deputy Sheriff Rankin to determine where Lanzit had purchased the powders and for what purpose he obtained them. A report also is being investigated to the effect that many of the people who had been in the vicinity of the beach at the time of the three persons a few hours later according to the deputy sheriff.

TO BE ARRAIGNED IN TAFT ROBBERY

Eleanor Walling

TAFT, March 18.—Eleanor Walling, girl bandit suspect, and her asserted accomplice, W. C. Crockett, arrested here shortly after the daring robbery of the State Bank, will be arraigned before Judge Stinchcomb tomorrow morning. They are both charged with holding up and robbing the bank of $5700 last Thursday morning.

The girl has been repeatedly grilled by officers but is reported to have laughed at their efforts to implicate her in the robbery. She has steadfastly denied any knowledge of the crime.

Clarence Crockett, brother of W. C. Crockett, and Frank Lanzit, also arrested last week in connection with the robbery, were released today by Sheriff Walling.

The arrest of the girl followed the finding of the overalls and caps worn by the bank bandits in the back yard of her home. Police declare she was making an effort to burn the caps and the overalls.

Crockett was arrested as he entered the automobile abandoned by the bandits in their flight.

Plans made for fight to aid Coolidge

Committee of Thirty-two Will Direct Campaign in Tenth District

Calvin Coolidge's campaign in the Tenth Congressional District will be directed by a committee composed of thirty-two persons, according to plans formulated at a meeting of leading Republicans last night. It is provided that each assembly district on the congressional division will have four members on this committee.

W. I. Hollingsworth presided at the Coolidge headquarters meeting last night when the University Club and made preparations for increasing the membership of the body to include every college student in Los Angeles county.

Those who attended this meeting are, H. H. Kelsey, president of the State College Club; Ralph Arnold, Henry P. Barber, Vernon Hunt, Phil Farnham, Dan Beecher, Paul G. Hoffman, Miss Jean Arthur, Mrs. G. S. Seward, Mrs. Ethel L. Turner, Mrs. Otis Canine, Mrs. Helen Matthews Laughlin, Mrs. Warren Roward, P. H. Richardson, W. S. Wintner and E. A. Green.

Arrangements have been made by the Southside Coolidge Republican Club for opening a campaign headquarters at 404 East Vernon avenue on Wednesday evening, the 26th inst., with a rally, according to an announcement made yesterday from the county Coolidge offices in the Angelus Hotel.

Plant to combat fires completed

The water plant on the Malibu Lake property in the Calabasas Mountains has been completed. It was announced yesterday. The system will be used primarily to combat forest fires in the district.

Woman loses suit

Mrs. Teresa Fitzpatrick, housekeeper for Will Rogers, died last night of heart failure after losing her suit for $20,000 damages against Dr. J. C. Charlier, by whose automobile she declared she had been run down in Whittier Boulevard. Judge Thompson gave judgment to the defendant yesterday.

Train kills aged man

Alexandro Montez, 75 years of age, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by an inbound Santa Fe train at Vandenberg. The victim died a few minutes after the accident. He was employed as a caretaker in a Catholic church at Vandenberg.

Nervous Flapper Bandit Backs Out When Jewelry Safe is Found Empty

A beautiful, fashionably attired flapper walked into the jewelry store at 704 West Sixth street last night and asked S. Harrison to show her some wedding rings. He placed a number of wedding rings on the counter but the young woman was not satisfied.

The girl showed her dissatisfaction by drawing a small revolver and ordering Harrison to give her all the money in the place. Harrison told her to help herself. He opened the safe, showing there was nothing in it.

The flapper bandit, obviously nervous, backed out, taking nothing. She climbed into a taxi which drove away.

Thomas Dodge Candidate for State Senator

Announcement that he will seek the nomination as a candidate for State Senator in the Twenty-ninth Senatorial District at the primaries August, was made yesterday by Thomas L. Dodge, proprietor of the King Edward Hotel, at a luncheon given in honor of his birthday at the Gates Hotel by Holliday & Collins, who conduct that hostelry. Many hotel men attended.

Brief remarks were made by County Supervisor Bean, Justice W. S. Baird and Dr. Howard Seager. For dessert a birthday cake was served which had been baked and sent to her son by Mr. Dodge's aged mother, who lives in Michigan.

REPORT LIGHT FROST IN MERCED DISTRICT

FRESNO, March 18.—Light frost in the Merced district was reported to the Weather Bureau here today. The thermometer was at 34 degrees Fahrenheit and it is not believed that the fruit crops will be damaged in any other parts of the valley.

Two men stopped C. G. Byron, collector for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, yesterday on Mission Road near the Mayer studio and asked him for the time.

Pulling his watch from his pocket Byron informed the pair it was nearly 3 p.m.

"Fine," said one of the men, drawing a pistol, "now let's have the watch." Besides the timepiece the pair got between $125 and $150 in money and a fraternal watch charm.

Byron was unable to pursue the pair because he was on foot and they were in an automobile, he told the police.
